Whole Document Analysis

IT LOOKS LIKE YOU HAVE NO DOCUMENTS TO USE

WHAT THE SKILL DOES

1. Use documents you upload to extract writing style and tone, and create a new draft, with a topic of your choice. This can be useful when writing executive, sales and marketing communications.
2. Compare two documents, for example, an original contract and an addendum, and provide a list of differences.
3. Translate a long document.

WHAT'S SPECIAL ABOUT IT

Whole Document Analysis ingests (processes) documents holistically. That why it's good for extracting writing style and tone, or comparing documents against each other and highlighting differences.

Whole Document Analysis is different from Chat with your data, in the way documents are ingested. Chat with your data ingests documents in "chunks". Chunked document ingestion lends itself well to Q&A type of interaction.

That's why Chat with your data belongs to a "Q&A" category, and Whole Document Analysis to "File-to-text". You can see this categorization on the Copilot dashboard.

GET THE MOST OUT OF IT

For best results, it is recommended to reference documents from your entitlement/s, in your initial prompt, when you use Whole Document Analysis.

In addition, if you briefly instruct the skill in how to use a document, or a set of documents, it will perform even better.
