".July 4, 2018 (CareerBuilder.com) – Ten years ago, if you had said that you were going to go to college in six months, you might have thought you were a little crazy. But that's exactly what happened to Shawna Criss, a Sales Associate at CareerBuilder.com. She's living the dream today thanks to a powerful program known as Bright.com. Shawna has always wanted to be a veterinarian. Even when she was working full time as a certified nursing assistant (CNA), she would dream about taking care of cute dogs like the ones she would see in her travels. "I loved animals. I really enjoyed taking care of them, and I really enjoyed making people happy," Shawna said. "But there was never a point where I felt like it was what I wanted to do for a living." It wasn't until Shawna had a baby and began taking care of a dog that she finally decided she wanted to be a veterinarian. "I just wanted to make the best life for him. It's what I did, and I knew that I wanted to do the same thing for animals," she explained. "But I never imagined myself actually being a veterinarian." But she knew she wanted to be a nurse, so she went back to school at the age of 35 to complete an Associate's degree in Nursing. She was so focused on her nursing career that she didn't even know she had taken a job as a CNA until a friend told her, "Shawna, you forgot to tell me that you're a CNA now." For a while, that job was a stepping-stone to becoming a nurse. She began working part-time as a CNA, and then, after becoming a nurse, she began working full-time. But Shawna wasn't happy with her job. "I wanted to 520fdb1ae7
