We are now taking on-line reservations for our Summer 2018 program offering of the FCMA Front Line Supervisor Training classes. This leadership training program is applicable to any company who has front line supervisors or team leaders that are responsible for leading people, not just manufacturing. There are more details on this very popular program in below. We only have a few spots remaining in our winter class, so please act now and don't miss out! We will fill the class on a first come/first serve basis.

FCMA is excited as we are into our fourth-year offering of the Front Line Supervisor Training Program! This program continues to get very, very favorable reviews from the 286 students and 37 different member companies who have participated in the program to date. The target audiences are Front Line Supervisors, Lead Operators, Team Leaders, or future candidates for these positions. Note that this program is applicable to any company that has front line supervisors or team leaders, and is not just restricted to manufacturing applications.

Programs routinely sell out, and we take registrations on a first come, first serve basis. We recommend that companies reserve a desired number of spots for each of the four classes for the entire year in advance. We then confirm the actual roster and student names prior to each class.

The program is presented in conjunction with the University of North Florida and represents seven full-day classes and a kick-off luncheon and graduation event over an approximate 16 - 19 week period. Classes rotate among different FCMA member company locations and are held on from 8:00 AM - 3:00 PM. Tuition cost is $1,500 per student all inclusive.

Who should attend: The course targets Front Line/First Line Supervisors, Lead Operators, Team Leaders or future candidates for these positions. The materials covered in this course apply to partner/support companies as well as manufacturing companies.

The program curriculum and summer schedule is as follows:

- Kick-Off Luncheon, June 11
