Oxford bookworms level 6 pdf

This award-winning collection of adapted classical literature and original stories develops reading skills for low-learning students. Affordable language and carefully controlled vocabulary build students' confidence in reading. Introduction at the beginning of each story, illustrations throughout, and glossaries help build understanding. Before, during and after reading the activities included in the back of each book to reinforce the student's understanding. Audio versions of selected titles provide excellent models of intonation and pronunciation of complex words. Classics, modern fiction, non-fiction and more. Written for middle and adult school students, the Oxford Library of BookWorms has seven reading levels from A1-C1 CEFR. A young girl from the country comes to live and work in Dublin. Joe is determined to be modern and independent, and will have a great time. But life in the big city is full of strange surprises for a shy country girl! ... Jerry Moore is a man with a problem - alcohol. He knows he has to give it up and his family and friends nervously watch as he fights against it. But drinking is a tough enemy to fight!... These stories of Irish writer Maeve Binchy are full of affectionate humor and wit and sometimes a little sadness.
