

Dear Mr Obama,
My name is Lucile, I live in Montpellier, and I'm 15 years old.
I'm writing to you because I'm worried about the environment and climate change. This is the most urgent of times.
I want to give you my opinion about the Cop 21.
I love our Earth, I love the air that we breathe and that's why I do not want it to turn into a disaster.
We must take urgent measures and we must act now!
I know that our Earth is in danger and that we are in danger too, global warming will kill us one day if we do nothing.
I hope that you will see this e-mail.
Best Regards.
Lucile

Dear M. Barack Obama,
My name is Noémie, I'm fifteen and I want to write to you about climate change.
At the moment, there is cop 21 which is taking place in Paris to fight against global warming. For me it is necessary to react now, for the future generations. We need to act together and if everyone puts his own, I think we can save the planet.
At first, the authorities thought that the problem was not serious, until the day, they opened their eyes and have realized the damages caused by global warming.
We must act together against this serious problem.
Let's act together. Thank you.
Noémie Junis
Montpellier

Dear Mister Obama,
My name is Rubio Aude and I am 16 years old. I'm French and I live in Mauguio near Montpellier in the south of France.
I am writing to you to give you my opinion about the current climatic situation. It's starting to worry me and I would like you to act, to save our world and to make it better.
The COP21 is taking place in Paris at the moment that I am writing to you. I know that you are actually there and I would like you to pass this message at the conference.
Please help us, change everything!
I would be very thankful.
Regards,
Aude Rubio

Dear mister Obama,
My name is Milo Meignan I am 15 years old and I live in Montpellier.
I know that you're in France for the C.O.P 21 in Paris.
I am surprised you've come to France but I think climate is an important issue. It's a delicate subject too because the climate is changing, the sea level are rising and we can already feel some consequences of climate change.
In the U.S what do you do about the climate change? And how did the population react to the COP 21?
In my country a lot people are concerned with this issue and want a better world for our future.
Thank you for your attention Mister Obama.
Milo Meignan.

Dear Mister Obama,

My name is Hugo, I am 16 years I live in Montpellier and I am French.

I know you are in France for the cop 21. I think we need to reduce pollution and our carbon emissions. I think we should have electric cars. Our climate is changing dramatically because of global warming, polar ice caps are melting at the moment, and we must stop this. I think the cop 21 is THE opportunity.

Thank you for reading my letter and I hope you will be to find a solution.

Hugo Demestere.

Dear Mr Obama,

My name is Maëva, I'm fifteen years old and I live in France.

I'm writing to you to tell you that I can feel the consequences of climate change on our environment and around the world. I have to say that I'm very anxious.

I'm anxious about pollution. I'm anxious about all this ice-cap melting. The world isn't like it used to be! Because of all the factories which produce carbon emissions and pollute our air!

You can save this, you can do something to stop this.

I wish that you can help us and the whole world.

Thank you.

Maeva

Your excellency,

My name is Edward, I am sixteen years old and I am a student to the Georges-Frêche high school.

I am very worried about my future and that of others because of the global warming.

I learned that you would be present at the Cop21 and I take this opportunity to write to you about this.

The Earth is going wrong, there are some endangered species but I think our generations too. Every day, the earth is threatened by carbon emissions, oil production, deforestation and many other things.

I know that your presence at the Cop 21 is important but I don't know if it will change something to this situation. I hope that you will take necessary decisions to change this situation at least for you people.

As I told you, I'm very worried about my future and that of others so I beg you to act to change this situation.

Best regards

Edward

Dear Mister Obama,

I write this mail for the COP 21. Our environment is very important and I think we should pay attention to the climate because we can feel that our climate is changing. It may cause troubles for the future. I think we must pay attention to people, and we must pay attention to future generations.

I'm only 16 but I am concerned with our world and actions that we can do to save the world.

It's very important to me to protect our planet for a better world. Please, you need to take large scale action.

Noémie Pugibet

Dear Mr OBAMA

My name is Julien Therriaud, I'm 15 years old and I live in Montpellier. I am writing this letter to you because of the COP 21 which takes place at the moment in Paris. I think that it would be necessary to take measures for OUR planet.

You should find a solution, YOU, leaders of the world. You have to stop global warming.

You have to establish laws to reduce the pollution and carbon emissions.

I trust you because YES WE CAN!

Regards,

Julien Therriaud.

Dear President Obama,

My name is Emma Saleh, I'm fifteen years old.

I'm a student in Montpellier in south of France.

I'm very worried about climate change.

Increasing greenhouse gas concentrations will have many catastrophic effects for Planet.

I love my area, I like National Park of Camargue and I hope it will not disappear because if we don't do anything sea level will rise.

As President of the United States of America you can convince people and the other Presidents that it's urgent to take action to change our future.

Emma Saleh

Dear Barack Obama,

I write to you because we have a real problem: climate change. This is not a fiction. If we don't take action, climate change will destroy our habitat and climate change is caused by pollution. For example, rivers will become more polluted if farmers don't stop pesticides. What you will say to your children? You are responsible, we are all responsible. I'm sad, really, because our world is being destroyed because of selfish people. We must act together, YOU must act now, mister president, for your children, for the world.

Thank you.

YOUINOU Aurélie

Dear Mr Obama,

My name is Chayma I'm 15 years old and I live in Montpellier.

I want to tell you my opinion about the COP21,

I love my planet and I don't want pollution on our planet.

I think we should take measures to avoid pollution.

We are in danger; we should save our planet now!

Thank you for reading my email, I hope the situation will improve.

Chayma

Dear mister Obama,

You probably won't read my text because you're a very busy man, especially at the moment with the COP21, but I want to tell you, I'm a teenager and the environment in which I live worries me. I can see deforestation, I can see floods, I can see pollution. I don't want to raise my future children and future little children in this polluted world. Please take action!

Sanja Lucic

Dear Sir Barack Obama.

My name is Yanis, I'm fifteen year old and I'm a student in Georges Frêche high school in Montpellier. This school is a school where we learn how to become a waiter or a chef.

I'm very happy and honoured to speak to you because you are the president of one of the most powerful country in the world: The United States.

During two weeks in Paris 195 head of states will discuss and talk about the environment and choices to make.

You, Sir Barack Obama, you will make choices with other presidents of the world, and I hope you will find solutions and I hope, apply them ...

Since I was little, I love nature and what is around me. When I see that all of us are destroying our planet, it breaks my heart.

We have destroyed our planet too, animal species have disappeared because of us flowers, plants, too many things have disappeared we must act quickly to preserve what remains.

We must act to save the flowers, the animals, the insects and our planet

I hope that COP21 will make a change, and that you will take action for our planet, for humankind.

Thank you for everything you are doing for our world, for our future, the world is thankful !

Yours faithfully.

Yanis Chaux.

Dear Mr Barack Obama,

I am writing to you to say that the current climatic situation worries me. It's catastrophic. It's disgraceful. I beg you to act, to do something that could help us in this situation. It is horrible. The COP 21 takes place in Paris at the moment that I am writing to you. Please do something to limit the global warming. I love the place that I live in and I love nature. I love rare species but they are endangered now. I would love to continue seeing nice landscapes around me.

I would be very thankful et you could at least do a little thing.

Regards

Alyce Cartier-Brooke

Dear Mr OBAMA

My name is Lisa Saint-Dizier, I am a student at the Georges Frêche High School.

I'm writing to you because I am concerned with climate change.

We are in a state of emergency, climate change causes a lot of natural disasters for example, floods and storms.

Our world is undergoing pollution, desertification, solar flare...

It's very important for you to take action because our generation is in danger!

Mark my words: you must act for a better world!

Thank you for your listening.

Yours faithfully

Lisa Saint-Dizier

Dear Sir Barack Obama, president of the United States,
My name is Clémence Laurent and I am 15 years old. I am a student in Georges-Frêche high school in Montpellier.
In the English class, we study climate and environment. We've identified the causes and consequences of global warming, which is a real problem that we can't avoid anymore. Each day we are suffering because of the consequences of climate change. Life on Earth has changed because there is too much carbon emissions in the atmosphere which causes greenhouse effect and rising temperatures.
But mankind is not the only victim. Animals are threatened too. Melting icecap is a cause of endangered species.
If we keep producing so much carbon dioxide temperatures will rise. If we don't act now, ecosystem characteristics will change.
Earth it's too beautiful to disappear.
We must preserve our planet for future generations.
Only powerful persons can act in order to change people.
So, please help me to change the world and have a better place to live.
Yours faithfully,
Laurent Clémence

Dear Mr. President,
My name is Chloé VOLANT and I am a student at Georges-Frêche high school in Montpellier.
I know that global warming is bad not only for the planet but also for us humans. Global warming is a problem for everyone because our daily activities require the use of fossil fuels that cause carbon dioxide (CO₂). One of the main greenhouse gases that causes global warming.
You must respond to convince as many people as possible in order to preserve our planet. Climate is important because it allows us to live and preserve certain animal species. I find nature beautiful and I love seasonal cycle and I don't want it to disappear because of climate change. I love of trees, flowers, animals.... And I would be a shame not to take action to preserve our environment, our planet, life...
I know you will make the best decision for our people.
Thank you!
Yours faithfully,
Volant Chloé

Dear president Obama,
My name is Mohamed, I'm student in Georges Frêche, I'm 15 years old,
I want you to find a solution to global warming, because I love animals and my environment. For this, you have to use renewable energy.
We must act quickly to save the planet, because the hour is grave, the ice are melting, there some endangered species but also some peoples which are threatened because of climate change.
We should do something for our planet.
Thank you!
Sincerely,
Mohamed Bellakbida.

Dear Barack Obama,

I would like to talk about a topical issue: climate change because the Cop 21 is happening at the moment.

The results of the COP21 and political decisions to be taken in the coming months will determine many long-term problems that affect us and future generations.

You know that the different causes of climate change are due to household waste, water contamination, soil pollution car pollution human use and electric consumption and overpopulation.

Climate change is due primarily to the Carbon emissions of fossil fuels, which release carbon dioxide and other greenhouse gases into the air. It is mainly caused by industrial machinery.

It is very fundamental that you take action. You must react! We must react!

Should we let people and pollution destroy our cultures and future generations?

Can I certify that my future children will live in a world where they could see blue sky without black clouds and a world without deforestation? Where they could see the horizon full of flowery trees, a world where they could see wildlife? No not at all because nobody is doing anything and we live in a world which dies out every day.

Please take action!

“I believe that mankind has looked at climate change in that same way: as if it were a fiction, as if pretending that climate change wasn't real would somehow make it go away.”

Yours faithfully

Gwendoline GERONIMI

Greeting M. President of the United States of America,

My name is Ines HOUDEBINE, I am 15 years old, I study at Georges Frêche College in Montpellier.

I feel very concerned with the current and future climate change. Global warming is very worrying and dangerous for us all.

The humanity all itself has too much to lose in this near apocalyptic situation.

A lot of animal species are endangered, for example the polar bears in the North Pole are threatened by the rise of sea levels which is caused by the temperatures which are getting hotter and hotter.

Our households are at risk, natural disasters are more frequent than ever, families are torn apart by missing relatives and their homes are ravaged by tsunamis or tornadoes. We have already seen such consequences in countries like Nepal, Italy and Japan.

I love my family, my friends, my country and I love my planet. I can't imagine the world we are leaving for the next generations is a world with no clean water left, no more snow up in the mountains, animals no longer able to survive in their natural habitats because we didn't take action in the last possible moment.

The entire population of the world and I are relying on you and your fellow world leaders to make a change for once and for all, only you have enough power to revolutionise the way every single being lives.

Sincerely Ines HOUDEBINE

Dear Mr President

I'm AUBERT Sarah and I am a student at George Frêche high school in Montpellier in France and I would like to give you my opinion about global warming.

Global warming is a problem for everyone help because of our daily activities require the use fossil fuel that cause carbon dioxide one of the main greenhouse gases that cause global warming.

You must act to preserve our environment.

Global warning concerns everyone!

I hope you will take action.

Thank You,

Yours faithfully,

Sarah Aubert.

Mister President,

My name is Jackeline and I am 16 years old. I'm a student at Georges-Frêche high school, in France. I would like to write to you about the environment because the Cop 21 has started this week. For years we didn't realize that world's resources were limited and that it would have major consequences. It is an urgent time for the climate. Days after days we are seeing the consequences of pollution and natural disasters. This is not normal. How much lives were taken because of our errors? I we don't act, we will head for our own loss.

I give you some ideas. I think a national or international day without cars, bus, subways, tramways, trains ... but just bikes, skates and only ecologic transports might be an idea. It is necessary that people get involved to change. The greenhouse effect is not a myth, it is reality. Let's develop electric cars, biologic food etc.. If we want to change the world we have to change at first.

Thank you,

Yours faithfully,

Jackeline Da Silva Santos

Dear Mr OBAMA,

My name is Thomas and I'm still in high school. I know that this week the cop 21 is taking place and I want to write you because I am concerned with global warning. I wish to give you some solutions to reduce pollution.

I hope you will take them into account.

I think we should designate one day in the week where people are forbidden to take their cars. That day public transport would have reduced tariffs. I think we must avoid carbon emissions. And I think to do so we must promote electric cars.

I also think that we should stop deforestation and that citizens should pay attention to their lifestyle and governments to their policies because climate change is a global issue.

I am really worried about our future. Please take action for a better world.

Thank you for reading my email Mr the president.

Respectful greetings,

Thomas Costes.

Dear Mister President

My name is Gautier STEINLIN, I'm fourteen. I study in George Frêche in Montpellier. Since Monday, November 30th, COP 21 is conducted in Paris. I want to give you my opinion. The situation is very serious, The Earth is going wrong. Men are destroying the planet step by step. We haven't the right to make mistakes that could impact future generations. Some little Islands are in danger because sea level rise. On the other hand, polar animals are endangered by the melting ice cap. We have to reduce our carbon emissions because carbon emissions produce greenhouse effect cause temperatures to rise. I know that it is a difficult topic and but if we continue mankind will be in danger we are already seeing the consequences this winter is so hot.

We must reduce car pollution and use public transport or bicycle for example.

I hope a solution will be found.

Please take action for the climate it is very important for our world!

Thank you.

Yours faithfully,

Gautier STEINLIN.

Dear Sir Barack Obama,

My name is Das Merces Lou, I'm 17 years old and I live in the south of France. I am concerned with climate change.

In fact, I'm worried for our planet. I know that the cop 21 started 30 November and will finish December the 11th. These days are very important for the environment.

I ask you to act the cop 21 which is an excellent opportunity.

Like many others, I like going for a walk in the nature, seeing wild animals in good health; I love greenery and trees, I love smelling the fragrance of flowers.

It is very important to protect our environment because global warming is threatening our planet. Many people pollute nature, for example we produce too much household wastes.

Many species are endangered due to the ice cap melting and the rise of temperatures but also due to carbon emissions, trains, the greenhouse effect and desertification. All these consequences are very dangerous for our future generations.

Help us please.

Yours faithfully

Lou Das Merces.

Dear Mr President of United States,

My name is Thomas Fréjaville, I am fifteen and I live in South of France.

I'm writing you this letter today, because I am very worried about our planet.

Global warming is more and more important because of diesel cars, the spray cans, the fossil energy... (oil, coal, gaz...) but also because of the deforestation.

Everyone of us can make efforts individually (walk instead of driving, switch off the lights at home ...) but I think you have Mr Obama, to speak with the other presidents during the COP 21 and find global solutions to save our planet.

I love nature: trekking in the mountain, sailing, or scuba diving and picking wild salad with my grandfather... I want to preserve that.

Please Mr President Obama, my generation's future depends on you!!!

Yours faithfully,

Thomas FREJAVILLE

Dear Sir Barack Obama,

My name is Alyssonne Baudin, I study in Georges Frêche high school, I'm fifteen. I would like to save the world because I love the Earth, my family and I want to preserve our world.

World is beautiful and it is too bad to destroy our world. Please take action to save our world.

Thank you,

Allyssonne Baudin

Dear Mr. President of the United States.

My name is Ines Clement. I'm 15 years old. I live in Alès.

I send you this email to discuss environmental issues because you are the leader of one of the most powerful country and you can take action for our planet. I think you're aware that our planet is in poor shape because of global warming.

We deplete our resources while we can use renewable resources.

If we don't act, the Earth will be unliveable for generations to come. In the end, it will not be present. Hundreds of animals are dying, some species are endangered. Climate change is threatening humankind.

I hope you're going to change things.

Thank you for having read my email.

Sincerely,

Inès Clément

Dear Mr.President,

My name is Jeanne and I am at Georges Freche high school in Montpellier.

Global warming is a very big problem that affects everyone because we use so much fossil fuels and carbon dioxide in our daily lives.

Maintain a good climate is very important to preserve life on Earth and animal species.

When I am in a car I love looking at the landscape, looking at the mountains because is it natural; it's the circle of the life.

Thank you for reading my letter.

I'm really afraid of global warming and for the future. Please take large scale action.

I know that you will make the best decision for us.

Sincerely,

Jeanne Valmy
