How to identify the best therapy during a pandemic

Prof. dr. Marc Bonten, Professor at UMC Utrecht

Clinical evaluation of new treatments usually takes years. A pandemic with an unknown pathogen asks for a much faster answer. Most currently available clinical evidence for treatment of patients hospitalized with COVID-19 comes from the UK-based RECOVERY study and the global REMAP-CAP study. In this presentation I will address the characteristics of these studies and the key factors of their success.
