To view a PDF, you need Adobe Reader, a free application distributed by Adobe Systems. How to practice It is recommended to perform the following practice. First line: Carefully imitate the shape of the sample letters. Second line (left): Write letters from time to time looking at the sample. Second line (right): Write a letter without looking, then compare with the sample. Repeat the same thing. Refer to the gridline to check the position of each stroke. This one-time practice would be enough to familiarize yourself with the shape of the letters. Repeat this practice to become a master of beautiful handwriting! Handwriting instructions Handwriting instructions for each letter are available on the following pages. For example, using your left hand, write kanji for 'tabemasu' 食. Now use your right foot and draw a 教 nomimas. Etc. All over the world Suzuki Ss sit in the shape of a watering can. The first Ss on the left side of the pod shape stands behind the Ss to his/her left. These two Ss are asked a question related to the target language. For example, how do you say kanji? OR What does kanji mean? The first Ss answer continues to be left around the shape of the bead (imagine going around the world). This Ss still moves around the most around the horseshoe shape. Then two Ss compete with the last 3 questions. The winner is the Ss, which answers the most questions correctly and quickly. Back writing Customized with www.esprintables.com student uses his or her finger as a pencil and writes a kanji figure on the back of his classmate. This colleague tries to guess the word (or letter). If he or she guesses it before the writer finishes, he/she will get three points. If he or she guesses this after the word has been written once, both children receive two points. If a word must be written a second time, they receive only one point. The ball tossget a big ball and write kanji marks examined all over it. Throw the ball around the room. As it is thrown away, scream the ぎ (right) or hidari ムlead). When the Ss catches the ball they have to read the kanji that is closest to their migi or hidari hand (which has ever been summoned by a putter). KanjiS basketball is divided into two teams. Say kanji and Ss who writes it first and correctly gets the point. That Ss then gets the opportunity to shoot pretend basketball to pretend to be a trashcan target. The student can choose from a 3, 2 or 1 point shooting range. If a student doesn't get the ball in the basket, his team still receives at least 1 point for writing kanji the fastest. The team with the highest number of points wins at the end. FlashEach Ss has a mini whiteboard (or laminated sheet of paper), an array marker, and an eraser (or chux). Tl screams kanji. Ss write it on the board and then show Tl as soon as possible. Points can be allocated to the fastest Ss. Or the fastest Ss can then scream the next letter. Memory plate Write kanji tested randomly on the board. Ss then try to memorize them. Get the Ss to put your head down. Minaai de kudasai. みないてください。 ' Then delete one of the letters. Ask the Ss to look at Hai, mitte kudasai 天天天天天天 'Ss raise their hands if they know which kanji is missing. Tl chooses the Ss that was the fastest. If they are correct, they may get another chance to remove the kanji from the board. (Flashcards can also be used instead of writing kanji on the board. These flashcards can be easily removed and replaced.) Dokkan (bang)Write kanji tested on paddle pop sticks. Also write three paddle pop sticks with the word DOKKAN ロツツン (bang). Put them all in a cup. Divide the class into two teams (or more teams). Order one student from each team to come to the front of the room. They take a paddle pop stick. If they can call kanji correctly they get to keep the paddle pop stick. If they can't name the kanji they need to put the paddle pop stick back. If the SS pulls out the DOKKAN ロツツン stick then they must put all their paddle pop sticks back into the cup. The team with the most rowing pop sticks at the end is the winner. DominoesPrepare a set of dominoes with kana / English on one side of dominoes and kanji on the other. Ss then match the kanji with kana/English. Fan-tastic To review kanji put the word that you want ss learn on a piece of A4 paper. Fold the fan-shaped paper. Slowly reveal the word fan section by fan section. Ss need to guess what the word is before the fan is completely open. (For each fold left on the Ss you can get a point.) Guru guru JankenArrange about 10 pook-shaped chairs. Place a kanji card on each chair. Divide the class into two teams. Each team is placed on opposite ends of the horse shoe. Tl says starto, and the students walk around saying every kanji. When the students meet they play jankenpon. The Ss who wins is still the one who loses must return to the end of his/her team's line. If the SS goes all the way around the shape of the shoe horse they get a point for their team. EXTRA: To make sure the Ss read the kanji correctly one Ss from each team outside the horse shoe checking out what each Ss says. In addition, to make it difficult to have two or three pairs of Ss going around the horse's shoe at the same time! Janken Race Game J ChalmerChoose starting point on the wheel and put the counter there. Your partner starts opposite you on the wheel. Play janken. The winner can move forward with the following number of seats: Win on 3 spaces, Win on 2 spaces, win on the ㄣ天=1 spacebar. The goal is to catch up with your partner. When you land in the same space as your partner, you win the round. Color in the plate and start a new round. When all tiles are colored, the winner is the person with the highest number. (Modify this game with any kana, kanji, or words that need to be reviewed.) junken_race_game_kanji.docxFile Size: 92 kbFile Type: docxDownloa File Kanji concentrationGive Ss a blank piece of paper. Ask them to fold the paper into squares. Spread the paper. Then ss write kanji examined (use a pencil or a light color pen so that the letters can not be seen on the other side.) Cut out the squares. Lay the squares face down in random order on the desk. Ss then try to find pairs of the same letters. Kanji jumble Customized with www.esprintables.com Class is divided into pairs or groups. The teacher writes a few words in kanji about being studied on the board and gives each group a set of small cards in which the ss copy each kanji and hiragana on the board. Then they need to mix kanji / hiragana, and then recompose each word. To make it more demanding Tl can delete the words on the board. The teacher is about checking the words and asking the Ss to read the words. For more advanced students, the teacher can write sentences, not words, and students must recompose the sentence word by word. Kanji Ninja donated by L Brandis Tl faces his/her back to the Ss and draws over his head kanji in the air. Ss guess the letter. Ss replace Tl. Kanji picturesGive each student with an empty kanji letter. Ask them to create a picture of the kanji. Then hold these kanji around the room as reminders. Kanji raced off Donated by the W LuDivide class into two groups and line up on two opposite sides. Spread kanji cards on tables in the middle of the room. The teacher calls out the word Kanji and each team sends a representative to find Kanji's target from a large pool. One correct card earns a point for the team. Kanji Stomp Donated by L Brandis Put a few kanji scattered on the floor in front of the class. Select two Ss. Say kanji. The first Ss stomp on it with his foot and screams kanji is the winner. This person can now choose the next Ss to come and play. (Or Ss continue several times. The ss with the highest number of flashcards at the end is the winner). Kanji Taisou Donated by L Brandis Ss select part of the body and then use it to write kanji in Japanese. Kanji snatchGed each pair of Ss kanji set. Ss put kanji on the table in front of them. Tl then yells one of the kanji. Ss need to grab the right kanji. The fastest gets to keep it. If there is a draw, then they play jankenpon to see who holds the kanji card. Tl with the highest number of cards at the end is the winner. Kanji Michikusa Suzuki Use grid (about 8 out of 10). Write kanji 3 jump from one side of the grid to the other (randomly, but still making sure that the students can make a line 3 kanji jump from start to goal). The label where the first 3-bitch kanji is from Start, and on the other hand, where the last 3-suwowe kanji is with goal. Complete the grid with other Kanji, such as 2 or 4-chuw Kanji. Ss draw a line from start to finish finding all 3 jump Kanji. Extra: hiragana vs katakana, numbers vs kanji, travel vocabulary vs other vocabulary etc. Kanji Rebuild Suzuki Tl shows kanji on A3 a piece of paper that has been divided into each jump (they may be in jump order). Ss need to put the strokes back together and guess what kanji is. (This can be done in pairs.) Additional: You can use this with hiragana, katakana or spell words Line up kanjiDivide class into three groups. Ask each group to stand in a straight line in front of the teacher. Tl shows kanji. Three Ss standing at the front of each line must say kanji. The Ss that is fastest gets to the end of the line. Tl shows the next kanji and so on. Every time a team leader returns to the first line, his team scores. Memory One set of kanji cards (or kanji with hiragana means sets). Place all the card caps and Ss you need to find matching pairs. The personal card in kanjiStudents go to www.yournameinjapanese.com and find the kanji connection that they like. Then using calligraphy sets students to make desk name cards. Donated by R Dettmann Naughts and kanji crossesUe kanji (or kana) in place of X or O on naughts and board crosses. The teacher can demonstrate the correct order of strokes on the board, and students can copy them to the fields at the top of the worksheet. Donated by K Caughey. naughts_and_crosses_hiragana.docxFile Size: 169 kbFile Type: docxDownload File Newspaper kanjiGet old Japanese newspapers, magazines or advertisements (print Japanese websites). Get the Ss found kanji tested. Ss then cut out the kanji and tip them into their books. Ohajiki -- Take a lot of small stones or flat balls. On each stone write kanji. Divide the class into small groups. Give each group a bag of stones. Spread the stones on the desk/floor. Ss reads two stones and moves one stone to another. If the stones touch (without touching another stone), then they get to maintain the stone. Ss with the highest number of stones at the end wins. Memory OHT Suzuki Put up OHT with random kanji on it. Ss have one minute to remember whats up on OHT. Tl removes OHT and Ss to save all the things they can remember. The Ss that remembers the most words wins. Cleaning kanjiGive pipes each Ss a cleaners for pipes. Get them to create a kanji from cleaning the pipes. (Instead of cleaning the pipes, you can use play dough.) Sheet overviewMiss an image from each chapter in the manual that Ss studied. Then draw a bubble over each photo. Ss write kanji, words or sentences using kanji, which is associated with the chapter image. Run and write Split class into two teams. Assign a runner for each team. Tl shows flashcards pronunciation kanji Ss then run to the board and writes kanji. The person who does it first gets a point. The team with the highest score at the end is the winner. Run and circle Write on the board kanji tested. Divide the class into 2 teams. One Ss from each team stands at the back of the room. Tl then screams kanji. Ss run and kanji wheel. He gets a point for his team the fastest. The next Ss of each team then has to go until all the Ss have taken a turn. Hunt scavenger KanjiPut kanji letters around the room. Divide the class into two teams. Select two Ss. Tl says kanji letter. The first SS to find that kanji and say it in Japanese gets a point for your team. The team with the highest points count is the winner. Jump order relay Divide the class into groups 4 or 5. Students stand behind them in a line toward the board. The teacher gives each student at the front of their line a whiteboard marker. The teacher then says the word /kanji. Students at the front of each line quickly walk to the board and record the first jump of the word kanji. Students return to their line and hand the pen to the next student who will write Kanji's next jump. Students can only write one jump at a time. If the student on the board at this time does not know how to write a stroke they will have to go back and pass the pen to the next student. Conintue until one team wrote the kanji/word correctly. This team is a winner and scores a point for their team. Repeat them with new words. At the end of the match, the team with the highest score counts. Funded by N Collins Tic-Tac-Toe kanji Adapted from www.superteacherideas.comDivide their students to two teams. Draw a large tic-tac-toe grid on the board. Select one person from one team to get started. Tell them a kanji letter to write. Get one of the students from one of the teams to come and write kanji. If they write kanji correctly, then a person from the same team gets to come and write another letter. If he's wrong, the person on the opposing team gets to come up with it. The first to complete 3 squares in a row is the winner. EXTRA: Have a completed tic-tac-toe grid on the board. Two Ss ting to the board. If they can read kanji correctly, they can draw maru (circle) or bats (cross) for their team. The first team to receive 3 row is the winner. Word Tree Customized from www.esprintables.comDyek students into groups. For each kanji tested provide a notch from a large tree. Write or paint the kanji on the trunk of the tree. Invite students to hang words on sheets of paper containing kanji from a branch of a tree. Display the accumulated trees on the wall of the classroom as the deadline progresses. Use them to periodically read the review. Wani kanji 漢 Use about 10 kanji flashcards are one or two Wani cards. Drill flashcards. Each time kanji is shown the students sing that kanji 3 times. If the card is shown, all students shout, get up and replace chairs. The last student to get a place must come to the front of the class and make 10 star jumps (the rest of the class count on a voice 1 to 10 in Japanese). Then continue drilling flashcards. OR: Instead of swapping places, students can get up when they see the wani and sit down for the next wani last stand or sit down must do star jumping. wani_card.docxFile Size: 17 kbFile Type: docxDownload File CalligraphyThis powerpoint introduces shuui and shodou.
