Sean Chittenango, NY Verified Reviewer Original Review: May 11, 2020 I visited many colleges. I took college classes in brick-and-mortar locations as well as online. I study at both community colleges and universities. I am currently attending Keller High School. I have a Bachelor of Science degree from DeVry University. Of all the colleges I've ever attended online or talked to peers about, DeVry and Keller far outperform other colleges for several reasons. The books of DeVry and Keller University are digital and accessible. I'm sorry college students are still forced to buy books in the mail without getting them on time for their classes or getting the wrong version of the book they need and paying 2 to 3 times the cost of digital books that DeVry and Keller use. All of DeVry's professors and Keller University are extremely qualified for the teaching positions they have in. He was fascinated by the theme and the material that helped my disc to learn the material. Of course, most professors in my master's classes have higher degrees or are doctors with extensive experience in the fields they teach. The math classes I took for my undergraduate classes were the absolute best math classes I've taken in my entire life. I learned more and felt more confident about math after taking DeVry to college algebra and college algebra classes. I took algebra classes in high school and in brick-and-mortar college classes, but will always sing DeVry praise about their math classes because they are the best... and I took these 10 years ago. DeVry and his graduate student Keller are ahead of the curve in every way. I also felt DeVry proud of his ethical policies. They have a zero-tolerance policy against plagiarism, and that's as important as it should be. Everyone is looking for a degree that will stand the test of time needed by schools that carefully and enforce ethical behavior. Schools that do not have a strong ethics policy may not be able to maintain their accreditation. DeVry and Keller are ready for today's time and future, respectable, promising, take care of their students and far superior to other colleges, universities and other online or inhouse learning DeVryProud. DeVry and Keller alumni. Read the full review of Carlos Alpharetta, GA Verified Reviewer Original Review: February 26, 2019 Course was good Professor was bad!!! Professor (Kelly) gave very bad instructions, and when we as a team and as individuals asked her for help, she gave a reluctant and vague guide. If you end up in your class turn off IMMEDIATELY!!! Kim Philadelphia, PA Verified Reviewer Original review: December 21, 2018I really enjoyed this class and it was much harder than I expected. Global perspectives for international business require weekly presentations, weekly individual case studies, weekly team course projects and weekly class discussions from start to finish. Be prepared to show each week and write, research, critically analyze and defend your positions on multinational corporations and their partnerships with solid research and your experience based on opinions. The professor welcomes all different opinions and perspectives, just make sure that you defend your positions with a balanced justification. We were asked to discuss all situations and ask questions, and until we were close to the topic, we were able to discuss the current political situation along with historical influences and possible future alliances. All factors affect international business and should be considered - language, religion, ethnicity, politics, education, demographics, economy, class and more. This is one class that should be needed in all graduate programs. I took international relations as a student (another university) and it was good - but not that good. This class was intense with a lot of stress, but it was worth it. The reception will help you plan and organize your full year with you. The ever-changing technology in the real world is exactly how Keller has his online classroom organized. This creates a richer learning environment and the student will gain practical skills for the field. Bishop Goodyear, AS Verified Reviewer Original Review: August 25, 2018Professor was great! I attended this school for some time, I graduated from DeVry, and now I visit Keller, so I had a lot of professors and I have to say the professor and is in the top three professors that I had along with the professor and the professor. Charles Tempe, AP Verified Reviewer Original Review: September 21, 2017If I could give a negative star rating I would. The admissions team will promise you the world and tell you all the possibilities the degree from Keller has to offer, Once you get the degree of the story changing. I got an MBA from Keller and found that it's Useless. In fact one of the career counselors at the Phoenix location told me: Unfortunately, an MBA is kind of useless now. I wanted to know that before I spent all the money on it. Every position on their ludicrous career fair rarely requires a bachelor's degree let alone a master's degree. And employers, they quickly tell you that an MBA from Keller has no weight at all. Avoid the mistakes I made and save your money! Teont Dolton, IL Verified Reviewer Verified Buyer Original Review: January 12, 2017 My experience has been so far very good. From my understanding, employees are willing to help students in their classrooms and achieve their goals. That's why I wanted to continue my MBA at Keller High School of Management as a master's candidate. Luz Orlando, FL Verified Reviewer Original Review: November 16, 2016Coming from Columbia-South America, it was hard to see how to pursue his career. In Keller, they don't have the time to guide me. Completing my master's degree is one of my personal goals and Keller High School management allow me to take online and offline classes. My professors are knowledgeable and open to any questions (they set the time to really pay attention to my questions). The staff are very friendly and helpful. Linda Royersford, PA Verified Reviewer Original Review: November 16, 2016DeVry University has helped me achieve a degree that helps me add value to my current role in my workplace. Professors are very knowledgeable and helpful. All the staff were great to work with throughout the process. Tasha from Atlanta, GA Verified Reviewer Original Review: August 25, 2016I will never hire Devry University or Keller High School Grad. It was a waste of the drive and my time. The professors were rude and didn't want to do their job of teaching. When learning really happens the answers to selective questions were not correct. This institution should have closed 20 years ago. Next Bio As two young real estate agents working for what was then the largest real estate company in Austin, Texas, Gary Keller and Joe Williams believes that the company should work for its employees, not the other way around. So the two men joined forces to find Keller Williams Realty in 1983. Four years later, the partners began franchising. With offices across the country, Keller Williams encourages agents to recruit others into the company through profit distribution.
