Just as observed in all exams most people sit, most people tend to be afraid to sit behind the math, some of them are very proficient in other aspects of learning, but when it comes to math they are very weak at this level, so that's one of the reasons you'll need to go past the question and go through it to have the knowledge and idea of those that are usually chosen and often asked, so you can give it all a pass. In this section, usually the number of questions that have been set is always 20 questions, which always includes topics such as area and volume, simple interest, conversion, stats, set, probability, age and and profits and losses, as well as other topics in mathematics. You can do a thorough background study on these topics and prepare yourself well before you take this exam as well, get a math tutorial to look at other methods of dealing with any of the topics you face in this matter. ENGLISH LANGUAGE: This is another strategic way to test an applicant's English language skills. This section always comes with 20 questions that are randomly taken from using words on everyday life as the closest in meaning, words and opposite, synonyms and antonyms, fill a gap, a simple question, and an answer, a curriculum, proper spelling of words and many other topics including registers to test your knowledge of English. GENERAL KNOWLEDGE: In this section, we usually have a total of 10 questions. This section of issues are always set from different areas of life, like biology, chemistry, physics, current affairs of Nigeria, Nigerian navy news, international news bodies such as ECOWAS, OPEC, UN, OAU and other bodies that applicants are expected to be familiar with. In addition, applicants ask some names if high-ranking officers in the force in both the navy and the army, most of the time they can ask for the full name of the Chief of Staff of the Army, Defense Ministers and many other related issues related to the Nigerian forces is not embarrassing if you asked the name of the chief commander of all armed forces, which doubled as president of the federal Republic of Nigeria In total, we usually have 50 questions set to test applicants and score it at 2 for questions, so is this a chance to demonstrate your readiness and preparation for the PAST EXAM WHY THE TIME FOR THE EXAM? No one will ever pray not to be selected as one of the successful candidates, but the truth is that not everyone will be chosen. So for you to prepare at hand, it is advisable you get yourself past the question and study from page to page in order to be ready to answer all the related questions that you might encounter in the process of writing this exam. It is also very important to note that this question pass is not a guarantee that you will answer all the questions in the exam, some may seem why you can not see some, but the basis of the question is to have a relative idea of what the question in the exam used to look like. You can easily pass the examination you've seen the former approach used for examination you haven't seen before, and don't have background information on how the question uses to look for those who have sat on the exam once.
