“Chado”
The Japanese
Way of Tea

Florizel has been studying Chado, the Japanese Way of Tea, ongoing now for 25 years. She is a San Diego native, but was first introduced to Tea during her college years in Northern California.

Shortly after graduating, she received a one-year scholarship for intensive and immersive study of Chado in Kyoto, Japan, under the instruction of the 15th Generation Urasenke Grand Tea Master. She also received an Associate’s Degree in Japanese.

Since returning from Kyoto, Florizel has been sharing her knowledge of Chado at the Japanese Friendship Garden & Museum in Balboa Park and in private lessons at her home.

Her mission is to carry on the Grandmaster’s motto of Peacefulness Through a Bowl of Tea, which today is needed more than ever.
