The Power of 2010 Self-Help and Spirituality book, written by Rhonda Byrne. This is a sequel to the 2006 book The Secret. The book was released on August 17, 2010, along with an audiobook based on it. The mission of the Power is that the philosophy and vision of the Mystery is to bring joy to billions of people. To bring joy to the world, Secret creates life-changing tools in the midst of books, movies and multimedia. With each creation from the Mystery, we strive to share knowledge that is true, simple and practical, and that will transform people's lives. The power of the name is the power of love, the main spring of the universe. Much of the Force describes how Byrne welcomes every blessed moment with irresistible love and gratitude to all creation. The book is based on the law of attraction and argues that positive thinking can create life-changing outcomes such as increased happiness, health and wealth. Byrne describes it as a fundamental universal law, akin to gravity. There are observations in the power such as the importance of being good for your water. Researchers in several countries, she writes, have found that when water is exposed words and feelings, such as love and gratitude, the energy level of the water not only increases, but the structure of the water changes, making it perfectly harmonious. ... When water is exposed to negative emotions such as hatred, the energy level of the water decreases and chaotic changes occur. Since inside the head 80 percent of the water, the author believes that it is very important. The Law of Attraction Home article: The Law of Attraction (New Thought) The Law of Attraction states that everything that someone experiences in life is a direct result of their thoughts. Byrne argues that it's really that simple. According to The Secret and The Power, human thoughts and feelings have magnetic properties and frequencies. They vibrate and resonate with the universe, somehow attracting events that divide these frequencies. The three rules of the Act of Attraction, According to Byrne, are: Ask, Believe and Get. As Byrne says, this means: How attractive, how. What it means in simple terms for your life: what you give, you get back. Everything you give in life is what you get back in life. Everything you give, by the law of attraction, is exactly what you attract back to yourself. In other words, if you want good things to happen, be a good person, think positive thoughts. The criticisms made by the book are highly controversial and have been criticized by reviewers and readers. The book has also been heavily criticized by former believers and practitioners, with some claiming that the concept of The Secret was conceived by the author and that the only people generating wealth and happiness from it are the author and publishers. Critics argue that the book is based on a pseudo-scientific theory called the law of attraction - a principle that as attracts as. In a scathing 2010 review, The New York Times stated: The power and secret of lard with references to magnets, energy and quantum mechanics. It's the last dead giveaway: whenever you hear someone turn to impenetrable physics to explain the work of the mind, run away- we already have disciplines called psychology and neuroscience to deal with these issues. Byrne's onslaught of pseudo-science jargon serves primarily to create an illusion of knowledge, as social scientists call our tendency to believe that we understand something much better than we really do. Jerry Adler wrote in Newsweek that The Power gives false hope to those who really need more traditional help in their lives. References and b Byrne, Rhonda. Power. Paul Harrington. During The Secret, the author introduces us to the law of attraction, or the idea that everything we want can be ours if we believe it can happen. I loved The Secret, so I was very happy to read the power. To make sure I had time to read it, I downloaded the book on my Audible app (get a 30-day free trial here) and listened to some every morning on my way to work. What I like about power versus the secret is that it provides the reader with tips and tricks on how to make the law of attraction work in your favor. At the beginning of the book, Rhonda Byrne explains that the way you've always lived the life you've always dreamed of is the power of love. I have to admit, when I first heard this, I thought, Oh, here we go... and started to wonder if listening to books like this made me a hippie. But I decided to continue and I'm so glad I did. Simply put, the best way to change your life for the better is by thinking more positive thoughts than negative thoughts. Even having 51% positive thoughts will have a big impact. Looks like it shouldn't be too hard, but I definitely found myself through being mindful of my thoughts that I'm a lot worried or get a cross with things that don't even matter like a long line at Starbucks. So the way to change that is, first, through mindfulness. Notice your reactions. Notice how you feel and if you don't feel positive it's time to switch it! Byrne suggests listening to your favorite music, thinking about the people you love, listing the things you are grateful for.... Thanks to positive thoughts and being positive, in theory it will attract positive experiences and people to you. After a few weeks of really making an effort to be positive things started to happen to me, like getting my tax return through when I wasn't short of money (but I believed that everything would be fine), the meetings and tasks in my work went really well, and the arrangements started to fall into place for us moving home this week! Rhonda Byrne says these little coincidences happen every day, and we don't associate that with the fact that we've attracted positive things into our lives. Similarly, when something goes wrong, it's not often that I would stop and think maybe it's because I've been engaging with my negativity! But I definitely heard phrases like it didn't rain pouring! Or that bad things happen in 3s, and they have to come Not really?! Maybe bad things keep keep because we're stuck in a negative mood? This book inspired me to try to be positive and try to change my response to a more positive outlook when things don't go according to plan. You can read this thinking yes ok all ... Are you telling me I can attract whatever I want in my life by being positive? But what I will tell you is to give it a go because you have absolutely nothing to lose and maybe a lot of happy experience to get... Hatred darkens life; Love illuminates him.-Martin Luther King Jr.Imagination is the beginning of creation. You imagine what you want, you'll be what you imagine, and finally you create what you will. -George Bernard Shaw's Secret Master of Mind is completely in use of imagination.-Christian D. LarsonCreation is just a projection in the form of what already exists. You don't follow your own desires, but borrowed desires Use your imagination in determining what you want to think or do.-Christian D. LarsonNow that when you have completed your role in the process of creation, creation is done! You are no longer in the old world where you didn't have what you wanted. You've moved into a new world that contains what you want, even if you can't see it yet. Know that you get it!-Ronda Byrne There is a world inside - a world of thought and feeling and strength; света и красоты, и хотя невидимые, его силы могучи.-Чарльз Хаанел'uan'u'u'tum физика говорит нам Есть бесконечные планеты Земли и бесконечные вселенные, которые существуют, и мы переходим от одной реальности планеты and the universe to the other, every fraction of a second. It's a real world that comes through science. -Ronda Byrne's somewhat adventurous moves into the invisible will change the way you look at the world and it will free you to get unlimited life.-Ronda Byrne's story of limitations has been passed down from generation to generation through human history, but it's time to tell the real story.-Ronda ByrneLet to go about things you don't like about your childhood, and save what you love. Let go of what you don't like about your teens and adult years, and keep the good stuff. Just keep what you love all your life. All the negative things of the past are done, finished; You're not the same person as you were then, so why keep putting them in your story if they make you feel bad? You don't have to dig up negative things out of you from the past. Just don't hang them in your story anymore.-Ronda Byrne When one once completely entered the realm of love, the world - no matter how imperfect - becomes rich and beautiful - it consists solely of opportunities for love. -Soren Aabye KoierkegaardSeem of mind means clarity of passion, too; That's why a great and clear mind loves passionately and sees distinctly what he likes.-Blaise PascalGratitude for the abundance you got is the best insurance that abundance will continue.-MuhammadIt doesn't matter what financial condition you are in now. It doesn't matter what financial condition your business is, your country or the world. There is no such thing as a hopeless situation. There are people who lived during the Great Depression who thrived because they knew the law of love and attraction. They lived by law, imagining and feeling everything they wanted, and they defied the circumstances that surrounded them.-Ronda ByrneLet of our lives will be good and times are good. We make our time; such as us, are the times.-St. Augustine HippoExtend to every person, no matter how trivial contact, all care and kindness and understanding and love that you can gather, and do so without thought of any reward. Your life will never be the same.-Og Mandino When all the people in the world love each other, the strong will not overcome the weak, many will not oppress the few, the rich will not mock the poor, the revered will not despise the humble, and cunning will not deceive the simple.-Mozin some sense man is a microcosm of the universe; so what man is, is the key to the universe.-David BohmLove is the Truth When you were a little kid, you were flexible and fluid because you didn't have formed or accepted so many negative beliefs about life. As you got older, you took on more feeling of limitation and negativity, which caused you to become more set in your ways and less flexible. It's not an amazing life; This is Life. The more you love, the more the power of love will melt the negativity in your body and in your mind. And you can feel the love melts all negative when you are happy, grateful and joyful. You can feel it! You feel light, you feel invincible and you feel on top of the world. As you give more and more love, you will notice changes begin to happen with your body. The food will taste better, the colors will get brighter, the sounds will become clearer, moles or small marks on your body will begin to disappear and disappear. Your body will start to feel more flexible; stiffness and little squeaks will begin to fade. When you give love and experience miracles in your body, you will be left without a doubt that love is the source of health! -Ronda Byrne The power of happiness, forever, for all we need life in each of us. Power is there - unlimited power.-Robert CollierSo striking facts in this regard that it would seem as if the Creator himself was electrically designed by this planet.-Nicola Tesla We must be the change we want to see in the world.-Mahatma GandhiSoSo Love and Our Land Tomb.-Robert BrowningTragically, lack of knowledge and understanding of the power of love is clear in the lives of people all over the planet today . they are the same.-Charles HaanelWhy humanity will consciously follow the law of love, I do not know. But that shouldn't bother me. The law will work just like the law of gravity works whether we accept it or not.-Mahatma GandhiPeople who have a great life to think and say that they love more than what they don't like!-Ronda ByrneYou can change your frequency at any time by changing how you feel and everything around you will change because you are on a new frequency.-Dad RontAh to anger.
