

POSSIBILITY MANAGEMENT NEWS

December 2023

Dear Possibilitators,

There comes a time to reveal your secrets, to tell people what you really think and feel about what is going on around you. If you wait until your deathbed before getting real, then sure, reactive consequences from others don't have too long to bite you in the ass. You'll be dead soon. Instead we propose that you start speaking now. Like we are doing.

The United Nations recently made a plea to the Cultural Creatives of the world, the Possibilitators, Bridge Builders, Rift Walkers, Seeds, and Edgeworkers - which is you, by the way. The U.N. plea is for practical action steps that the United Nations can take now that they have courageously admitted, "The Sustainable Development Goals are badly off track."

The U.N. opened the Sustainable Development Goals for ratification in 2015. Many countries signed on. But back then, the U.N. equated 'investors' with 'stakeholders', forgetting that there is only one stakeholder: life on Earth. The U.N. spent eight years pleasing their investors (like Bill Gates...) and letting their stakeholder suffer. This is a terminal equation. This is ecocide. The U.N. has been promoting ecocide.

I - Clinton Callahan - have previously responded to similar requests from other organizations. I usually make my proposals in writing so they are less easily misunderstood, and so I can substantiate what I say with links to some of the 650+ websites in the StartOver.xyz universe. Never once has anyone replied by saying something like, "Gee whiz! We never thought of that before. What you are saying is so beyond our capacity to comprehend that we would like you to explain yourself further. Can we bring you in for a consultation about how to shift to Archiarchy?" Nobody asks, so why bother?

But in that moment, as I press the 'delete' button, my Archetypal Lineage kicks me in the butt and says, "If not now, when? If not you, then who?"

It is true. The first Bridge-House was born in 1973. Rancho Campo took place in 1975. We have fifty years developing next culture distinctions, skills, and thoughtware upgrades. Yet we have kept it secret. Mainstream modern culture knows nothing about Possibility Management thoughtware for Archiarchy.

My Archetypal Lineage says, "Now! This is the moment. The United Nations is asking for help. There is nothing more mainstream than the United Nations!"

I make a big sigh, then dig the U.N.'s email out of my trash bin. The first due date is that very same day, 10 December. Their first video meeting is scheduled three days later at 23:00 at night in Bali. I register and am accepted. I stay up and get on the call with 600 other Edgeworkers trying to help the United Nations. I don't get to speak, but they give two email addresses for anyone who does not get to speak to submit their words in writing, one in Germany, one in Namibia. I send my communication to both of them. Plus I fill out their online form of 2000 words as Written Input from the Civil Society Organization of Possibility Management for the Preparation of the Zero Draft of the United Nations Pact for the Future.

I build a website for a new set of goals - Regenerate Earth Goals \(REGs\). I make an entirely new graphic for the United Nations to use. I propose that the youth do not need more jobs. The youth need skills and authentic adulthood initiatory processes, because it is the youth who will design and inhabit Archan gameworlds first. Humanity 3.0 starts now, since both Matriarchy and Patriarchy have run their course. I propose sponsoring 3000 Archiarchy Invention Centers \(AICs\) around the world, and I start a website for them.

I take a Stand: Sustainability is no longer a valid concept. Humans will rapidly shift into Regenerate Earth Goals \(REGs\) or rapidly shift into oblivion.

Possibility Management is thoughtware for Archiarchy. You could give this idea to your friends and family as a nonmaterial Christmas present.

Love and Hugs from your PM News Team

It is now clear: There is no Initiation without a Village.
And, there is no Archan Village without Initiation.

Training-Makers are really Village-Makers.
And, Village-Makers are much more than Training-Makers.

Archiarchy needs Village Maker.
