

Originally from Springfield, Virginia, Madison began dancing at the age of three at Strictly Rhythm Dance Center. From an early age, dance became a defining passion, leading to continued training with Dance Sensations and Impact. Throughout high school, Madison further developed as a performer and athlete as a member of the varsity dance team.

Over the course of her dance career, Madison has had the opportunity to perform on nationally recognized platforms, including the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade, TODAY, and other televised productions. She has trained extensively in ballet, tap, jazz, contemporary, lyrical, hip hop and musical theater, developing versatility across a wide range of dance styles and performance settings.

Her dedication and commitment to dance have earned her numerous regional and national titles, as well as scholarships throughout her training. With a passion for performance and a love for continued growth, Madison brings experience, versatility, and enthusiasm to every opportunity both on and off the stage!
