The price guide is 39 pages long and quite comprehensive compared to the Star Track section of their price guide's non-game update. Some numbers are unbelievably high compared to real selling prices but many cards are quite reasonably worthwhile. With any price guide, values are just a view. Be sure to check the current selling prices on eBay and also check card values on their related set pages. If you are offering difficulties in downloading the 2016 Star Track Price Guide, click here. Home » Entertainment Trading Card Sets » 1970-1979 Entertainment Trading Card Brand: Star Track Will Have Some Debate Impact Star Track Trading Card Has Had On Passion. Since 1967, only dozens of sets for the original series have been released. They together All the angle of the show. The 1976 topps Star Track was the second time the franchise published in a set of mainstream trading cards. It was also the first to use color images. The pack includes five cards and a stocher. The 1976 Topps Star Track has an 88 card base set. The card has a thin white border which directly gives way to a bigger picture from the show. The card fronts have a small narrative prisoner who goes deeper on the back towards the vratiup. A small U.S.S. enterprise is with captions. Unlike the 1967 Leaf Star Track, the text actually does not compare with anything that happened on this show. As with the most Topps entertainment card sets of this era, the 1976 Topps Star Track includes a stok in each pack. The checklist has 22 different stackers. They come with classic Topps sticker design. A dead cut picture has a single color border. In the background is a space theme, the theme. The vast majority of the images are headshot with different characters. 1976 Topps star track is extremely popular with the plus. Cards are somewhat common but still commands strong prices. The full set can get hundreds of dollars. 1976 Topps Star Track Checklist Check Base List 1 U.S.S. Enterprise 2 Captain James T. Crock 3 Dr. Bones McCoy 4 Science Officer Spuk5 Engineer Scott 6 Lt.
