

Dr. Bill Hoon Chang

We wish to welcome Dr. Bill Hoon Chang, Doernbecher's new Director of the Leukemia and Lymphoma Program. No stranger to OHSU, Dr. Chang received his fellowship in 2006 in Pediatric Hematology/Oncology at Doernbecher, where he garnered the Robert C. Neerhout Fellow Award (2005). He did his pediatric residency at Doernbecher in 2003, and completed OHSU's M.D./Ph.D program in 2000. A researcher of malignant transformations in pediatric oncology, Dr. Chang won the National Institute of General Medical Sciences' Ruth L. Kirschstein National Research Service Award in 2005. Dr. Chang enjoys marathons, triathlons, surfing, mountain biking, mountaineering and alpine skiing.

Dr. Dawn Lynn Nolt

Introducing Dr. Dawn Nolt, the new TITLE. Dr. Nolt was an Assistant Professor of Pediatrics in Infectious Diseases at Doernbecher and a post-doctoral fellow at OHSU's Division of Infectious Diseases in 2006. She did research training at the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine's Department of Molecular Genetics and Biochemistry, and was an Assistant Professor of Pediatrics in Infectious Diseases. Dr. Nolt attended the George Washington University School of Medicine in 1996, and did her residency at the Department of Pediatrics at Baylor in Houston, Texas. Dr. Nolt has published extensively on infectious diseases in children.

Dr. JoDee Marie Anderson

We wish to welcome Dr. JoDee Anderson, Doernbecher's new Neonatologist. Dr. Anderson comes to us from Dallas, Texas, where she was an Assistant Professor in the Division of Neonatal and Perinatal Medicine in the Department of Pediatrics at the University of Texas, and was a neonatology fellow at Parkland Memorial Hospital. She received a postdoctoral fellowship in neonatal-perinatal medicine from the Department of Pediatrics at Stanford University's School of Medicine, and did her pediatric residency and internship at Stanford's Lucile Packard Children's Hospital. Dr. Anderson graduated from Oregon State University in 1993.

Dr. Laurie Bertanyi Armsby

Welcome to Dr. Laurie Armsby, Doernbecher's new Pediatric Cardiologist. Since 2002, Dr. Armsby has been an Assistant in Cardiology, a clinical fellow and Chief Resident at Children's Hospital in Boston, as well as an Instructor of Pediatrics at Harvard Medical School. At Harvard, Dr. Armsby was an Intern/Resident, Chief Resident and Clinical Fellow in Pediatrics. She received an NIH National Research Scholarship Award in 2000. A Santa Barbara, California native, Dr. Armsby received her medical education from Stanford in 1994.

Dr. Lisa Driscoll Madison

We wish to welcome Dr. Lisa Madison to Doernbecher's staff. Dr. Madison has been a Fellow in Pediatric Endocrinology at OHSU since 2002, and did her internship and residency here. She received OHSU's Pediatric Resident Research Award in 2002. Dr. Madison received her medical degree from the University of Connecticut School of Medicine in 1999. Dr. Madison has been active in the Oregon community as a volunteer physician for the Gales Creek Camp for Children with Diabetes in Forest Grove.
