My whole point when downloading the app was to push messages, but since the program will disconnect me every two I stopped receiving messages, so it's not good for me. Once set I would change the app ranking to five stars. This program disconnects me every couple of days! I end up missing important information and have to think to correct myself back to my own when I realize I'm not at but from my preschool news about upcoming events. Then I have to contact my email address and glean over junk emails, or they email something to me. This makes the program mostly useless! Very frustrating. Please fix this problem! Or at least insert the option into the settings that are meant to stay logged in. When will I be able to view the information on the Kids tab for both of my children in the app? I see it as something that can be worked on, but this issue is quite frustrating. I always miss messages and messages because of this. Very disappointed with this program and the many questions I had to use it. Our daycare just switched to this program from Hi Mama. I am very disappointed with this program. It does not work properly and navigation is terrible. I do not like that I can not bin read messages, or put them in the read folder. The photos are grainy. Very disappointed with this program, very disappointed ... can not stress enough that this programme is terrible. We are so proud of how it turned out, and we know that you will too. Our goal is for the parenting program to give parents a better understanding of who their child is up to each day, as well as easy access to information updates, invoice review and payments. We know that using this app will improve your parent experience in your center! Today I am going for you through the program. We'll explore how to set up families in the app and how best to use it in your center with all the features you've added. Please know that we have plans to store many updates along the way. This is only the first program launch for updates that will include; monitoring of curricula, updated daily report documentation, direct teacher reports and much more! These features are all works as we speak. So, here we are! Invite parents to the app!1. Invite parents to the parent portal: Parents will first need a parent portal login to join the app. To invite them to the Parent Portal, just navigate to the FAMILY tab in the sandbox, select the drop-down menu with four lines, and then select SHOW ALL. This will help all families on one page. Then select the top red dot in the left corner, this will select all families in your center. Then go back to the drop-down menu with four rows and select PARENT PORTAL REGISTRATION EMAIL. At this point, you can customize the email to say everything you want, and it will give parents a link to sign up. If you want to invite individual parents, you can do this on their child's profile. You'll see the SEND PARENTAL PORTAL REGISTRATION EMAIL OPTION on behalf of the guardians. This is the same email as described above, but it will only be sent to one of your chosen guardians. If you've already invited your parents to the portal, they can simply download the app and start signing in with your existing email address and password!2. Send an email describing the original program:Our team has created a parental portal user guide that you can send to your center's families. This guide is very detailed and will go through all the features in response to all the questions they may have. You can also choose to send a link to download this user guide to the parent portal email body if you want!3. Download AppThe Sandbox Parent App available for download on iOS and Android devices. If you're using an iOS device, you can find the app in the App Store by searching for Sandbox Parent App. If you're using an Android device, you can find the app on Google Play When searching for a Sandbox Parent App. When parents create an account, they will be ready to download and sign in to the app! If you want to play with the app yourself first, we suggest that you create a sample child in your sandbox account and use that account to sign in to your parent app. This is a great way to play with settings and hang the app before sending your families by email. Parental portal/application settings If you get too far in the process, make sure that you have configured the settings that you would like to use for the parenting app in your center. You can do this by jumping to the SETTINGS tab of your sandboxed account and up to PARENT PORTAL. Here you will have the opportunity to adjust what parents can view, edit, and adjust using the portal and the app. Browsing a parent app while browsing through a parent app is pretty simple. To get started, just click the top-left menu to move from one section to another. Not all tabs may be available because what appears depends on how you configured your settings on the Settings tab of your account. If the section below is missing, check your settings before calling support. Let's bypass each section of the app together!1. Newsfeeds When parents sign in to the parent app, they'll be brought directly to the newsfeed. Here, parents will see information your center shared, such as messages, pictures, attachments, and ads. A great way to encourage families to join the app is to publish a newsfeed every day! This is a great place to publish a monthly newsletter and all the center updates as well.2. The MessagesThe Messages section will allow parents to communicate with the center privately (not in common with other classmates). At this point, they can't select a specific teacher or staff member (this feature is about to be released), but they can send a message to the entire center. From now on, messages will be measured by all center employees who have access to message viewing, as well as permissions for that particular class. If you need help configuring settings to get the right people to see messages, let us know, we're always happy to help!3. Billing section Billing is a place where parents can view their account balance and make payments (if your center offers online payments). If parents click the Pay Balance button, they will have the option to pay their balance. They will also have the option to make a partial payment from their account balance. In the Billing section, parents can also view invoices and all payments made. They can access reports and tax receipts by clicking the Reports and Tax Receipts buttons at the bottom of the screen. 4. Children on the Children tab can view information about their child(s). They also has the ability to add or edit information by clicking the + icon next to each item. Here are some tips for children in the SectionParents can edit information only if there is an icon +(there will soon be more editing options)Parents can add a photo by clicking the child's photo icon on the Attachments tab, parents can upload documents (if your center allows it) If the family has more than one child in the same place, they can switch children simply by clicking on the child's name. 5. Attendance Depending on how your center manages attendance, parents will be able to see their child's day time/exit time as well as absences in this section. If they have more than one child in the same place, they can switch them by clicking on the child's name. Parents won't use the app to download to their child, they'll still use the time clock in your center. This tab is only for clock viewing and output times. 6. Daily journals! program parents' daily logs section will now be able to view the daily log activity you have documented through the app. To view the daily journal, they will need to click the green daily log icon. ** Updates daily logs sandbox coming soon. Teachers will have easier access to documenting things like potty, snack, nap and activity very quickly!7. Settings On the Settings tab, parents can reset your sign-in password and time lock PIN. They can also manage their push and e-mail messages so they can check/out, messages, newsfeed items, and daily logs (if the center enables it).**If parents don't receive notifications when someone is posting a newsfeed or sending a message, check their settings again.8. Locations! center has more than one location, you'll notice that in the upper left menu, parents with a child(s) in more than one place will have the option to switch between locations. To switch between locations, they'll click on the location and select the location you want to switch to. This makes it easy for families with a child(s) in more than one place. Final notes: I hope you'll be more than ready to run a parent program at your childcare center when you read this blog. Although the program is very easy to use, this tutorial should prepare you for any questions that may arise. If you have any questions about the program, please know that our team is here to help!
