One of the best books of the year by Choice is The New York Times. The Washington Post, The Economist, Time, USA TODAY. Christian Science Monitor. Doris Cairns Goodwin's The Bully Pulpit: A Dynamic Story of the First Decade of Roosevelt's Administration and how it has a timeless message for us today. It is an excellent guide to the issues and people involved in the Progressive Era. Goodwin does a remarkable job of synthesizing vast amounts of material as it brings together the lives of S.S. McClure, muckraking journalists who created the magazine and others. The book has been praised for its thorough research and analysis.
