The 60 cm wide built-in quadro furnaces from zanussi combine Italian style with practical features. The ovens are the perfect choice for people who want flexible, low-maintenance homes with stylish and functional appliances that are simple and easy to use. At the top of the range of pyrolytic furnaces, THE QUADRO, THE38903XD and THE37902XK are equipped with a large space 74-liter culinary cavity, 2 cycle automatic cleaning for easy maintenance and excellent energy efficiency combined with a premium look and attention-grabbing design. The ovens maintain the same vertical alignment and clean lines, with a distinctive handle shape, amber LEDs and displays and a large, black-tinted window on the door, ideally matched microwaved by the zanussi quadro. The advanced electronic controls allow you to select either the 60- or 90-minute Pyro cycle based on how dirty the QUADRO furnace is. The high temperature of pyrolytic technology means that the leftover food just turned into fine ash and you only have to rub it with a damp cloth. What's more, a 60-minute pyro cycle costs just 17p for electricity. The ovens offer 25% more space and 25% more baking cooking trays more than you would expect from a typical 60H x 60W x 57D cm3. You can bake even large pizzas up to 34 cm in diameter. And, in a nod to its heritage, the oven has a special pizza function for clear bases and damp, molten toppings on pizza and pies every time. The zanussi quadro furnaces are rated as A-20% for energy efficiency, which is 20% more efficient than an A-rated furnace. Other key features of the multifunctional furnaces of THE QUADRO QUADRO ZOP38903XD and ZOP37902XK include 10 cooking functions, pyrolytic cleaning, a fully programmable timer with amber LEDs, four-step glazed doors, and stainless steel anti-fingerprints. The price is about 500 pounds. Zanussi.
