Great buyers, style ideas, savvy tips Andrew McCaul great buyers, style ideas, savvy tips for your home decoration 1 in 6 Spring Advanced He can snow out, but you can get a leap over next season with a simple arrangement that stretches a shop bought in an elegant center. All you need is a collection of clean bottles — old or Antichrist for a cham, rustic display, or person who points to a sleeping view (soak in labels or labels; if they're harder, try Goo Gone, available in hardware stores). Trim stems to the height you'd like; put a flower in every bottle, with sunshine dreams. 2 in 6 Say Cheese! Turn a chalkboard into a serving tray that makes a statement -- literally -- by showing the names of your favorite agencies to serve for cocktails or a cheese course. Buy a wood-framed grain, a couple's pull designs that fit their location, and epoxy. The alcohol sleeves are in the wood. Then there's long tougher some pank and write the cheese names in your fanciest script. 3 of 6 Win Word Notes extra points with family and friends by sending them to smart Scrabble card. To do: Spell your message on a real game board. you put in the recipient's name, but if it doesn't fit (or if you want to make a huge bunch of cards), go with just a standard happy birthday or Best Wishes instead. Menen a picture of the summer game board and make a print of the image. For the finishing touch, rainlash the picture on a blank, folding card with a matching envelope. You will pick up a triple word note with the birthday guy or gal. 4 of 6 Correct Colors Take a basic book from the aha blah and this quick fix: Paint the case wall in a beautiful, unlike hue. This is easier to do if the back (or at least the shelters) are removable; if it doesn't, you can still do the job. Just cover the corners of the sides and shelters with masking or the pint cassette while shining up the back. 5 of 6 New Uses for the Old Agent we guess: Your sterling pieces to gather dust in some forgotten cabinet, escape on special occasions -- if at all. Why don't we enjoy these things properly designed more often using them for bathroom storage? A cream is the perfect size to hold a stash of Q-tips, while bowl sugar, fall cups, and other small containers accommodate cotton balls, brush marks, and lucky comeouts and finishes. (If you really want to give their legacy an overhaul, fill a crystal dictator with nozzles!) Who knows -- this touch of elegance can even inspire your family to keep the bathroom property. 6 of 6 Timeless Decor last year, you invested in a nice calendar to pile up your workspace, but once it's 2008, it's time to send beautiful pages. If you hate to do it, don't do it. You can enjoy the images a little longer by framing them as wall art. (Calendars are particularly good for this because the pages have been themed -- such as the botanical reproductions shown here from Cavallini Paper & Body. So they resemble a series of print when hanging in matching frames.) If these pages already come up with a border, don't even tease matching. For example, cook it on a Monday and freeze it, then take it out and decorate it on Friday. Advance and freeze bakery cakes also make the ice easier. frozen cake doesn't break as much as you freeze and it makes it easier to apply your crumb clothes (see below). Similarly, your cake level is easier with frozen cake. Cake will stay freshly in the freezer for up to one week. Indeed, you can also make betcream in advance and store it in the fridge, in an air vessel, for up to a week. Week.
