The song was released digitally on September 9, 2016 by Columbia Records as the lead single from her second studio album Back from the Edge (2016). The single peaked at the top of the UK Singles Chart, a position it maintained for three weeks. Outside the UK, the single topped the charts in Australia, New York, Sweden and Ireland. It also became his breakthrough hit in the United States, peaking at number 11 on the Billboard Hot 100. In early March it became a double platinum in the UK. In May 2018, it was reported that The Script had compted legal action against Arthur over alleged copyright infringement against the song. In response to claims that the song sounds similar to The Man Who Can't Moved, The Script initially decided not to pursue legal action, but in May 2018 the band filed a copyright infringement lawsuit. The song was number 30 on the UK Official Chart on 12 September 2016. On September 16, 2016, the song entered the UK Singles Chart at number 25 and peaked in its first week, spending three consecutive weeks at the top. The song was ranked 19th in the uk's best-selling songbook of 2016, making Arthur the best-selling British male artist of the year. In the second week of January 2017, it exceeded the millionth sales mark, making it the first ever act of the X Factor, which sold more than a million copies of singles back home. In the United States, the song debuted in New #100 on November 12, 2016. The song peaked in #11 for two consecutive weeks kept out of the top 10 from Miley Cyrus's Malibu in its first week and congratulations to Malone's post for the second week. He spent 52 weeks on the chart. The song became his first single on the U.S. Billboard Hot 100, making Arthur only the second winner of The X Factor UK to reach the top 40 in the United States (after Leona Lewis) and only the third hot 100 winner after Lewis and Little Mix. In May 2017, the song reached No. 1 on the Adult Pop Songs Airplay Chart, more than six months after its release in the United States. The song also went platinum in the U.S. according to the RIAA on May 18, 2017. As of September 2017, the song has sold more than 1,208,000 digital copies in the United States. It was 2017 bestseller in the United States, with 1,195,000 copies sold in 2017. On September 15, 2016, the song entered the Irish singles chart at number 91, and peaked at number one on October 14 and peaked at the top of the charts four consecutive weeks. The song has also been on the charts in Australia, France, New York and Sweden. On February 26, 2017, it was announced on Sunday Brunch that the single had sold 2 million copies worldwide.
