

Agile Amsterdam partnership packages

We will welcome 200 participants at Agile Amsterdam this year to join our program, coming from small companies to the large, fortune 500 companies. Does your company wish to reach the core of an Agile organization and have an opportunity to communicate with this target audience?

As a guideline, we offer three different packages for promotion before and during the event. For gold partners there is also an option to exclusively deliver a talk at the conference. Some companies prefer a slightly different package; let's discuss what is feasible for your company.
