

Ohara Ikebana Lessons with Kaoru Sweet

Ohara School is best known for the artistic approach to the traditional art of Ikebana, and its focus is to utilize the seasonal fresh materials in simple elegant styles. It is among the most popular and active schools of Ikebana, and it has a history of over 100 years. Ohara remains the leading force in the world of flower arranging today.

About the instructor

Kaoru grew up in Tokyo and studied Ikebana with her mom. She studied under the late Atsuko Kosaku who was one of the most talented and influential instructors in Japan. Kaoru received the 3rd term Master's Degree in Japan, and she has been teaching in the U.S. for 30 years.

About the lessons

The class size is very small, and everyone works at his/her own level. I have both beginner and advanced level students, and it's fun to see different styles of arrangements each time. Kaoru gets the special materials suitable for Ikebana from Miami and Hawaii, and you will enjoy the beautiful arrangement at your home after the class.

Class is held biweekly during season. Please see the registration form for the upcoming schedule. It is held at the Quarry, a community in North Naples on Immokalee Road near Collier Boulevard.

The class size is limited to 12 people per session. You have the option to sit at an outdoor table. For everyone's safety, I am only accepting fully vaccinated students. Thank you for your understanding.

How to sign up?

Please print out the registration form. Select the dates, number of arrangements, fill out your information and send in with your check.

Please email me if you have any questions. Hope to see you soon!
