

Food is medicine – Kitchen Chef wanted!

We are Centro Amazanga, a Conservation Center of Ancestral Knowledge and Amazonian Nature in the Province of Napo, Ecuador.

www.centro-amazanga.com

Our kitchen is the heart of Amazanga, with its pulse pumping fresh and healthy energies through our space and team. We are looking for a kitchen-magician on a voluntary basis who enriches us with his/her creativity and dedication.

What we offer

- Work in an international and intercultural team in co-creation with local kichwa community
- An opportunity to partake in a community dedicated to personal growth
- Lodging in pristine natural environment on the borders of National Park Llanganates
- Wide range of freetime activities are possible, including exploration of nature, arts, handicrafts, yoga, martial arts, native and natural cosmetics and medicine
- Healthy and nutritious food with vegetarian, vegan and gluten-free options
- Private bedroom and shared bathroom in communal space
- Assistance in process of applying for visa
- Assistance in coordination of transportation from Quito

Your tasks

- Management of communal kitchen, planning and preparing meals and menus for ecolodge guests, group seminars and community daily life
- Managing and organizing kitchen logistics and food orders
- Maintaining and nurturing a clean and harmomized space
- Supervising kitchen team
- Developing further menus and recepies, aiming at a fusion of native kitchen and international cuisine

Are you

- Flexible, spontaneous, reliable and self-responsible?
- Interested in sustainability, environmental and personal health and development
- Ready to take on responsibility in all aspects (own emotions, thoughts, deeds; in social as well as working environment)
- Pro-active and focusing on solutions instead of problems
- Interested in cultivating a hands-on attitude
- Enjoying alcohol and drug-free environments

Duration:

We are looking for someone with the possibility to stay with us preferably for one year.

Get in touch with us: amazangaecolodge@gmail.com