☐ Hadith No. 7390 According to Jaber Ibn 'Abdullah al-Salaami' (Ambassador of Allah) taught his companions al Istikh'ra (consultation) for any occasion, and as he taught Sura the Koran, he said: When one of you decides to do something, let him do two rak'ts other than the obligatory prayers, and then say: When one of you decides to do something, let him do two rak'ts other than obligatory prayers, and then say: When one of you decides to do something, let him do two rak'ts other than mandatory prayers, and then say: When one of you decides to do something, let him do two rak'ts other than the obligatory prayers, and then say: When one of you decides to do something, empty O Allah! I turn to your knowledge so that I can choose ... I appeal to your strength to support me, I ask you (give me a little) your grace; For you are certainly capable, and I am incapable, you know everything until I know, and you are the Great Knower of all that is unknown. Oh Allah! If you know that this thing - (and he clearly calls the thing in question) is a source of good for me in my immediate and later deeds (or: for my faith, my sustenance and my destiny) to make it available to me and make it easier for me, then bless it for me O Allah! If you know that this thing is a source of evil for me, for my faith, for my sustenance and my destiny (or, as for my immediate and subsequent affairs) take me away from it. Decide for me the good where it is; then give me satisfaction about it. (Reported by Buhari in his Sahich No. 7390) In Arabic اللّهُمَّ إنِّي أسْتَخِيرُكَ بِعِلْمِكَ، وأسْتَقْدِرُكَ بِقُدْرَتِكَ، وأسألُكَ مِنْ فَضْلِكَ، فإنَّكَ تَقْدِرُ ولا أَقْدِرُ، وتَعْلَمُ ولا أَعْلَمُ، وأنْتَ عَلّامُ الْغُيوبِ، اللّهُمَّ إنْ كُنْتَ تَعْلَمُ أنَّ هَذا الأَمْرَ. ٧٣٩٠

Indeed Allah-High said: A relative translation and came up: When you told the one to whom Allah fulfilled the blessings, just as you yourself filled it: Keep for you your wife and fear Allah!, and you hid in your soul what Allah is going to do in the public. You were afraid of people, but it is Allah who is more worthy of your fear.
