Now about 340 MB in size, this lighter version has been mainly extended to devices with limited hardware capabilities. After opening the game immediately after battan, images similar to the original game will hit you first. The jump and input screen, including the pairing screen, is pretty much the same. If you've been playing PUBG Mobile for a while, you should find the environment quite familiar in this lighter version. The dynamics of Battle Royale have also changed slightly thanks to the introduction of a smaller island map. Not to mention similar-looking houses, lush vegetation, vehicles and lanterns, etc. that resemble a map. This is not an easy task, especially when there are many players to deal with on the field. However, there are plenty of weapons, equipment and vehicles to fight and prevail with other players. This watered variant allows you to have a maximum of 40 people indoors. However, the essence of the original game remained intact. Thanks to Unreal Engine 4, the game's graphics are admirable for an application.
