This deal in detail:

Do you yearn for an art class that involves more than drawing bowls of fruit? Put down the easel and pick up a spray can for this graffiti masterclass deal from London's Graffik Gallery. £30 gives you a full two hour lesson from professional graffiti artists to get you dabbling in the phenomenon of street art.

Learning in small groups and a very chilled atmosphere your expert tutors will guide you to creating your own graffiti masterpiece. Using stencils and spray paint you'll be taught how to build colours and encouraged to develop your own unique designs. All tools and equipment are provided so all you need to do is come loaded with imagination and your ideas will become a reality. At the end of the day you'll take your creations away with you.

Graffik is a vibrant art gallery in Notting Hill, London. Rather than holding conventional exhibitions, it's a non-traditional creative space that showcases urban culture, exposes raw new talent and lets artists collaborate right on the walls. After this class you'll have everything you need to be inspired and start creating your own intelligent, subversive works at home. Or wherever you choose to put them.

So what will your street art name be? We hear Banksy's taken but that's no reason not to take advantage of this awesome 60% discount and get graffiti-ing with the pros.
