imei will work with sony ericson myfone d-back? !repeat l appz appz: Don't feel ignored and repeat your question quickly; if nobody knows your answer, nobody will answer you. While you wait, try searching or or ya i have asked before appz: you have to make a backup and then make that recovery. i am not aware of any imei recovery on android appz: when you plugged in the device for the first time, did it ask for the unlock pattern, or did it go straight into recovery? jrib: i am asking for phone not laptop appz: then maybe we are seeing a hardware fault. Have you not tried it with any other Android phone that works, and which might possibly have the same hardware failure? appz: imei is the phone hardware identifier on every android. so your phone is not going to send you the recovery code or a usb cable for that recovery appz: "software recovery" is a different topic. You asked about "registration code" earlier which has a different topic appz: so your question is not how to unlock a cellphone, but about how to recover data on it. does any one know a program to convert.m4a to mp3? i tried this but there is a bug with its python-pptx module puz, why is it necessary to use python-pptx appz, you can probably figure it out on google if you need to, but you can generally find imei. you can type into google for imei + your phone model and it will come back with the corresponding imei in the format of xx:yy:ss.nnnnnnnnnn oop, that would be xx:yy:ss.ffffffffffffffffffff tolos: it 520fdb1ae7
