Available only in the electronic version. I can't download the data in the document box. What should I do? The documents won't work properly if you use the 3.x version of Adobe Acrobat Reader software. Please make sure that the 4.x or more version of this software is installed. To check which version you're using, just click Help in the Bar Menu and select About Acrobat Reader. The version number should be displayed in the top corner of the information box. If you have a version 3 or less recent version, please download the latest version of Acrobat Reader. To do this, just click on the next link - Get Adobe Reader. My registration number doesn't work. What should I do? If you purchased one document, be sure to click on the document you want to receive, not the Full Set button. If you've purchased a full set of documents, be sure to click the Full Set button rather than individual documents. If you have any problems with your registration number, please contact orders@cca-acc.com or 613-236-9455. Who is included in the etc. Solemn Declaration? The legislation that applies in the province will include who can obtain affidavits and statements. In Ontario, for example, the Affidavit Act states which individuals may receive affidavits and statements. Some persons, by virtue of their responsibilities, are automatically entitled to sworn statements and statements, including provincial judges, members of the Legislative Assembly, lawyers authorized to practice in the province and municipal councillors. Under the Act, the Attorney-General may also appoint commissioners, who are usually sworn commissioners, who are present in the building associations. These people will have stamps and to prove his rank as commissioner. cdc 2 Translation in real time Best quality in the world Documents uploaded in slide-and-drop Try en These examples may contain vulgar words related to the search These examples may contain familiar words related to the search For more information about the changes from the previous version of 1994 CCDC 2, see for all the details of the changes from the old document CCDC 21994, read the five-page report on the WEBSITE.
