[ShowHide]Virus table of contents is one of the problems that worries Android users the most when accessing the Internet. Today, websites often attach ads and sometimes malicious code, which can harm Android devices. If unfortunately, they will make the device no longer run smoothly. The battery drops faster, data charging grows abnormally, processing tasks become cumbersome as a sign of identification or worse, theft of personal data. If you do not want to be one of the ill-having victims, you need to prevent this before these threats appear and Avast Antivirus is a tool to solve this problem. According to statistics, the app has over 100,000,000 active users. You probably won't want to miss it! No more worrying about virusesS Avast Antivirus, malware or viruses that hackers attach to some websites will not be able to penetrate your device. Creates a solid firewall, blocks and eliminates hazards that can cause problems for your phones. From there, you can safely experience content on the Internet and even on other apps that are already installed on your phones. The app has a built-in smart scanner that can scan all files and folders in your device for threats, including hidden and junk files. After that, the notification returns to the screen and you just need to press the Clean key to finish the job and free up the device's memory. Speed up your phoneJunk files make memory full and make your device a lack of storage as part of a slowdown. The main reason is that RAM and ROM take up too much space. They take on the role of reading and writing data for work applications, so is no longer able to read and write data, it will crashes or lags. Basically, apps still have data in RAM when you go out (or implicit tasks), so if you want your device to work faster, you'll need to release it. The tasks are simpler and more intuitive than ever with Avast Antivirus. Just click the Boost RAM button and all problems will be solved in a few seconds. Privacy when accessing the web with VPNToday, a lot of content on the internet is hidden because they don't fit into some countries' culture or are geographically restricted. Avast Antivirus has integrated a VPN into its app and you can explore all the content you want. Moreover, your browsing activities and records will not be recorded, IP address and location information will be hidden to create privacy. Be sure of the quality, because Avast Software does not intend to provide bad services. Protect your personal information If you have some sensitive information such as photos, video clips that don't want anyone to see it, hide it, and create a password using the Photo Vault. If some apps like Messenger, Messages, Facebook, or Wechat have personal information and you don't want anyone to access them without consent, set a password with App Lock. I think you've thought about this, but you haven't come up with a solution. But now, it's quick and easy to use. Nobody wants your phone stolen. Personal data may be transferred to social networks, deleted or stolen for malicious purposes. Avast Antivirus was developed with an additional anti-theft feature to avoid possible loss. You can set the settings under Anti-Thief by automatically turning on the DEVICE LOCK PIN code (it can't be used until the correct PIN code is entered), locking data changes on the SIM card, and turning on Lost. At that time the volume turns to max, the buzzer sounds continuous and the camera will automatically photograph the thief. If you're using the Cloud and you've already been connected, you can sign in to your Cloud and get media files taken, including photos and videos.
