Plot: If you have never seen this film I will not spoil it for you as I think I can give an honest review, the story is fantastic. Now the thing I love about this film is, that it is not just a film, but a true-to-life story. It takes place during the Vietnam War and by watching this film I could not but feel the fear, agony and loneliness that the characters of the film felt during the time of the war. I really had to think about how difficult this movie was for the filmmakers to make as it is up to interpretation but I feel as though it was a right decision for the story to be told in this way. When the film first started the first battle scene was such an intense and action packed start, before I was able to turn off my brain, but I felt it was necessary to make the audience feel what the characters of the film felt during this time. I really liked the characters in the film. They are all well written and portrayed. It really put me in the shoes of each one of them. I could see the fear that they felt, the reasons for why they did what they did, and I could understand their views. By the end of the film I felt as though I had a better understanding of what was going on and what the people were thinking at the time. The characters are all extremely different and yet interesting, but for the most part it is John Rambo that is the main character. He is the one who starts off as a normal man and ends up as a cruel and revengeful man. I was not expecting to like this film, but it is a great film. The story is well told, the characters are well developed and I felt as though I was a part of the film. I have not seen this film for years, so I do not want to spoil it for you, so I will not tell you the story, but I will tell you how it was told. You have to watch the film to understand this, I hope it works for you. About Vietnam is a country in East-central Asia.
