Boswellic Acid Complex

The King of Oils in One Convenient Capsule

Product Success Guide

What is it?

Frankincense Boswellic Acid Complex combines CPTG Certified Pure Tested Grade® Frankincense essential oil with 60% AKBA Boswellia frankincense resin in an advanced liquid-based microbead capsule to powerfully support joint comfort, healthy inflammatory response, and cellular health and renewal.*

Why do I need it?

As you age or manage the demands of a busy lifestyle, you begin experiencing joint discomfort and muscle stiffness, which can limit your ability to stay active and maintain overall wellness. These challenges are often compounded by the need to support long-term cellular health, especially as oxidative stress contributes to premature aging and health risks.

While many people want natural solutions, finding a product that's potent and easy to incorporate into a daily routine can be difficult. You need a natural, targeted supplement that effectively manages inflammatory response, supports joint and cellular health, and provides antioxidant protection—all in one convenient capsule.

Frankincense Boswellic Acid Complex addresses these needs, offering a powerful blend of Frankincense oil and frankincense resin in an easy-to-take microbead capsule that delivers advanced support for healthy inflammatory responses and cellular protection.*
