

My life was out of control with my addictions, and I always thought it was triggered due to my sexual orientation.

I never thought to look at my past traumatizing events that would eventually lead me to seek acceptance through drugs and wrong connections.

At first, I felt as though I was the only person out here with my experience, but after listening to other people's experiences with recovery, I soon learned that many of their journeys were identical to my experience.

Since coming to Here's to Life, my life has made a true turn around and I am happy to report that I am celebrating my first year of sobriety and now have become part of the very agency that helped me to begin my experience with my recovery journey.
