I am a seed warm in the soil,
and have just had my first taste of water.
I am a hatching chick pecking out of my shell,
and from my nest I see the wide open skies.

I am a mother numb in pain,
but in my arms my new born child.

I am a dream, an idea and a vision that can only be if there is time, chance and love.
I am unchanted, I am hope, I am Korogocho.
