How to set up evod vape pen

Before you start using a brand new atomizer you first need to prime it, this means getting the wick material nice and saturated before applying heat. If you don't prime your atomizer before you go to use it, all of the dry wick material inside of the atomizer will burn up and the coil will be damaged, possibly requiring a new one. There are a couple different ways to prime your atomizer, one way to do so is before you fill up your tank, drip 3-5 drops of e liquid directly into the top of the atomizer and while that soaks in you can also add a drop onto each piece of wick you see poking out of the side of the atomizer. This method ensures that the atomizer is fully saturated before use but if you are in a hurry or don't have any e liquid with you besides what is in your tank, there is another way to prime.For the other method of priming, all you do is replace the old atomizer with the new, reassemble your tank, then without applying any power to the Kangertech EVOD battery, take at least 5 strong pulls on the mouth piece. This will help pull some of the e-liquid in your tank down into the atomizer, saturating the wick.It is possible to get too much e-liquid into the atomizer initially and it could end up “flooding” the atomizer, this can cause e liquid to spit up through the mouth piece or to be leaked out through the bottom of the tank - but again if you don't put enough, the atomizer could get burnt up right away. It's kind of a balancing game of how much e liquid you need to use to prime your atomizer, but after a few go's at it, you should be able to do it in a snap with no problems. Flooding and Leaking issues Over priming and certain environmental elements can cause your atomizer to flood or your tank to leak. Elevation changes, extreme warmth or cold and over/under tightening are all instances that can cause these issues. Although a small amount of leaking is completely normal and to be expected, occasionally you may experience some major leaking issues. If this occurs, disassemble your vape pen and wipe all the e liquid off of it; make sure to get the top of the battery where the tank connects, if too much e liquid gets in there or it's left for too long, the EVOD battery can be damaged possibly beyond use. Before reassembling try to think about what caused it to happen in the first place, ask yourself questions like was your tank over/under tightened, are you traveling into a major altitude change, was it left in too warm of an environment, ETC.. With the power of deduction you should be able to figure out why it happened and from there you can reassemble your vape pen and hopefully prevent it from occurring again right away.If your atomizer is flooded, whether is be coinciding with leaking issues or just from over priming your coil, there are a few things you can do to help it dry out a little. One trick is to flip your vape pen upside down so that the juice isn't flowing down into the atomizer. After you've got your device upside down, hold the button to fire your Kangertech EVOD battery and blow into the airflow holes, this will help shoot all the excess e liquid out of the mouth piece. Another way you can get the atomizer to dry out a little more is to disassemble your vape pen all the way, then wrap your atomizer in a tissue and give it a good shake. Flooding and leaking issues can be a pain to deal with especially when you're so used to just lighting up a cigarette and that's that, but hang in there cause once you get a handle on these issues you can continue your endeavor to successfully quit smoking cigarettes.Cleaning your Kangertech EVOD At Slim Vape Pen we recommend the EVOD Starter Kit for vape pen users of all experience levels, from beginner to long-time user. Using the EVOD Vape Pen is easy, fast with virtually no learning curve, so prepare your self to be amazed when using the EVOD Starter kit. This is more or less an overall EVOD Starter Kit tutorial and instructions on exactly how to use your new EVOD Starter Kit, so take a look below and enjoy all the ins and outs of this amazing starter kit. EVOD Starter Kit Here are the basics that you can expect when you buy the EVOD starter kit from Slim Vape Pen: Unboxing the EVOD Starter Kit Your EVOD starter kit will come in the mail in a cushioned bubble wrap envelope. We make sure your EVOD starter kit is thoroughly protected against damage in the mail, and at the same time we also try to keep shipping costs as low as possible so that we can keep our prices low and pass those savings on to you. When you open the package, you will find the EVOD Starter Kit box inside, along with a bottle of e juice. The EVOD box has your 2 EVOD vape pens inside it, fully assembled so that you can see how it goes together. When you take your vape pen out, you will also see an extra liner in the box. If you pull that liner out, you will see a booklet of instructions on how to use and take care of your EVOD vape pen. The e juice bottle has, of course, e juice inside it; when you open it you will also notice that it has a bulb syringe dropper for easy filling of your EVOD vape pen. Charging your EVOD Vape Pen The first thing you will need to do is charge up your EVOD vape pen. Simply unscrew the battery portion (the part with the button on it) from the wide metal ring that attaches it to the clearomizer tank. You should see a round area where the battery connects to the charger, with threading to screw the charger on. Attach your charger to your battery, and plug the charger in to a USB port or attach it to your wall adaptor and plug it into the wall. You will see the button on the battery flash to indicate that it is charging, and you will also see the light on the battery flash red to indicate that the battery is not charged. The light will either show a solid red light or will flash between red and green while it is charging. When your EVOD battery is fully charged, the light will show solid green. At this point you can unscrew the battery from the charger and reattach it to the rest of your vape pen. Filling your BCC Tank on the EVOD Starter Kit Next you will fill up your EVOD BCC clearomizer tank with Nicoclean e juice. To do this, you unscrew the clearomizer tank (the upper portion with clear slits where you can see the e juice level) from the wide metal ring attached to the battery. When you detach these two portions, you will see the atomizer coil portion of the clearomizer. This is a metal post and a short wick on the thick metal ring. Set the battery and atomizer coil aside and turn the clearomizer tank upside down. Use the e juice eyedropper to fill the clearomizer tank from the sides, and be careful not to get e juice in the hollow middle portion of the atomizer tank. If you do get e juice in the middle, clean it out carefully or you will end up with drops of e juice in your mouth along with your vapor. When your EVOD clearomizer is full, turn the battery and atomizer coil upside down and carefully screw the pieces together. Turning on your EVOD Vape Pen Your EVOD arrives in the default position of “off,” so if you push the button it will not work even if it is fully charged. To turn your EVOD on, push the button five times. The LED light on the button will flash three times, indicating that it has been turned on. You can turn it back off again by pushing the button 5 times, and this will keep it from accidentally activating in your pocket or your purse. Cleaning your BBC Tank on the EVOD Starter Kit You will need to clean out your EVOD regularly, once a week or every time you change e juice flavors. Thanks to the bottom coil clearomizer (bcc) model, cleanup is easy and relatively fast. To do a complete cleaning, you will want to rinse out the atomizer coil with with alcohol (Vodka or rubbing alcohol) and let it dry for 24 hours. This will get your atomizer coil completely clear of residue and is the best choice for switching flavors. You can also do a quicker cleanup just by rinsing your atomizer. If your atomizer coil starts to gurgle while you are using it, this is because e juice is getting directly onto the atomizer coil and flooding it. You can clean this out easily by unscrewing the battery from the atomizer, putting a tissue on the bottom side of the atomizer, and blowing through the mouthpiece. This will clear out your atomizer coil and get rid of the excess e juice. If there is e juice on the battery connector, you should just wipe it off with the tissue to make sure that you are not losing voltage with each puff. All working parts on the EVOD Starter Kit The working parts on the EVOD are the battery and the atomizer coil. The battery will last you for quite a while before it starts losing charge. The atomizer coil will probably need to be replaced after a few weeks, because the heating element itself will eventually wear out. You will know it’s time to replace your coil when the vapor begins tasting burnt and/or it stops producing as much vapor. However, there are also other troubleshooting things you can try for both of those symptoms before replacing your coil: a burnt taste may be caused by your wick getting clogged and needing to be cleaned with alcohol (Vodka or rubbing alcohol), and low vapor production may be due to a low battery or e juice on the battery connector keeping your coil from getting full power.
