

I'm not robot  reCAPTCHA

Continue

O rest in the lord

This week I am in New York attending the annual summer meeting of the National Association of State Catholic Directors Conference. Every summer, nearly forty directors of Catholic conferences from all over the country gather for days to explore and discuss the public policy issues facing the Church and our society. The meeting is held elsewhere every summer and this year is the 50th anniversary of the group. Pro-life advocacy at RI Statehouse. This is a chance to learn from experts and discuss our own experiences promoting the Catholic Church. It is always a useful and constructive time to listen and learn about the many public policy issues facing us both at the national and national level. Among the topics we plan to discuss are immigration and refugee services, threats to religious freedom, restorative justice, physician assisted suicide, abortion, poverty and election-year activities. Experts in these areas represent our group and then very lively and helpful discussions. When we are not behind closed doors in the boardroom have time to see local attractions and communicate with colleagues and their families. We should celebrate Mass at St. Patrick's Cathedral with Cardinal Dolan. Tours to the 9/11 monument and museum, Ellis Island, as well as a visit to the Contemporary Museum of Art are also planned. I'm planning a trip to Yankee Stadium as well! I always look forward to this meeting as it is time to learn from men and women who speak on behalf of the Catholic Church in almost every state house in the United States. Sometimes the work of promoting the Church in a public home can be a lonely place, and it is always gratifying to be with colleagues who face the same problems. They come from as far as Hawaii and Alaska, and are as close as Massachusetts and Connecticut. It is a diverse group of people from different walks of life, but each of them is committed to advancing the common good and promoting human dignity and the sanctity of human life. Please pray for us this week that this is a fruitful time for our advocacy and education work. Students at OLM and Healey School advocate for school choice programs at RI Statehouse. Father Connors was at a retreat at St. Benedict's Abbey in Steely River, Massachusetts last week. Priests are obliged to retreat every year. It is a time of spiritual renewal and a time to rest in the Lord. At Mass last weekend, our very talented musicians, Henri St. Louis and Deirdre Donovan, played O Rest In The Lord. This is a delightful aria from the oratorio of Elijah the great composer Felix Mendelssohn. O Rest in the Lord are the words of an angel who speaks to Elijah after he has fled into the wilderness for a whole day. In this scene Elijah lies under exhausted He asks the Lord to take his life because suffering too much to bare. Then he falls asleep. The angel appears twice, first to wake him up and give him water and a loaf of bread. Elijah falls asleep again. The angel appears a second time to wake him up again. This time the angel gives Elijah enough food so that he can survive for forty days in the desert. This aria refers to the second appearance of an angel. Angel encourages Elijah here, so that he will not only have enough food for his forty days of travel in the desert, but that he will also have the spiritual strength to continue his suffering. The text of the play: Rest in the Lord, wait patiently for him, and he will give you the desires of your heart... How true these words are to our lives as disciples. There is always a great need to take a break from the tense and often chaotic pace of our modern life to renew our relationship with the Lord and refresh our spiritual life. We don't have to go far to find a place to stay in the Lord. We just have to find the time to do it. Start right here at OLM with daily Mass at 7:30 am, spend some time praying the Rosary, go and visit the Lord really present in the tabernacle here at OLM or any Catholic church you find yourself near. But take the time to rest in the Lord, wait patiently for Him and find the desires of your heart! Pray for him and for his perseverance in the study of the priesthood. Do good. Be in the well. God bless you. Go Sox! The library makes recordings in the National Jukebox available in accordance with the permission of the rights holders. Under the Music Modernization Act, many of these recordings will enter the public domain and free to use and reuse. Records published between 1923 and 1946 are protected for 100 years, and records published between 1947 and 1956 are protected for 110 years. In addition, some items in Jukebox, such as the Victrola Opera Book, are now in the public domain and are free to use and reuse. You are responsible for deciding whether the use of items in this collection is legal. You will require written permission from rights holders to copy, distribute or otherwise use copyrighted material, except as required by the Fair Use Act or other statutory exemptions. Some materials may be protected by international law. You may also need permission from holders of other rights, such as publicity and/or privacy rights. Credit line: Congress, National Jukebox. Learn more about copyright and other restrictions. For recommendations for full citations, please refer to primary sources. This week I am in New York, where I am attending the annual summer meeting of the National Association of States Conference directors. Every summer, nearly forty directors of Catholic conferences from all over the country gather for days to explore and discuss the public policy issues facing the Church and our society. The meeting is held elsewhere every summer and this year is the 50th anniversary of the group. Pro-life advocacy at RI Statehouse. This is a chance to learn from experts and discuss our own experiences promoting the Catholic Church. It is always a useful and constructive time to listen and learn about the many public policy issues facing us both at the national and national level. Among the topics we plan to discuss are immigration and refugee services, threats to religious freedom, restorative justice, physician assisted suicide, abortion, poverty and election-year activities. Experts in these areas represent our group and then very lively and helpful discussions. When we are not behind closed doors in the boardroom have time to see local attractions and communicate with colleagues and their families. We should celebrate Mass at St. Patrick's Cathedral with Cardinal Dolan. Tours to the 9/11 monument and museum, Ellis Island, as well as a visit to the Contemporary Museum of Art are also planned. I'm planning a trip to Yankee Stadium as well! I always look forward to this meeting as it is time to learn from men and women who speak on behalf of the Catholic Church in almost every state house in the United States. Sometimes the work of promoting the Church in a public home can be a lonely place, and it is always gratifying to be with colleagues who face the same problems. They come from as far as Hawaii and Alaska, and are as close as Massachusetts and Connecticut. It is a diverse group of people from different walks of life, but each of them is committed to advancing the common good and promoting human dignity and the sanctity of human life. Please pray for us this week that this is a fruitful time for our advocacy and education work. Students at OLM and Healey School advocate for school choice programs at RI Statehouse. Father Connors was at a retreat at St. Benedict's Abbey in Steely River, Massachusetts last week. Priests are obliged to retreat every year. It is a time of spiritual renewal and a time to rest in the Lord. At Mass last weekend, our very talented musicians, Henri St. Louis and Deirdre Donovan, played O Rest In The Lord. This is a delightful aria from the oratorio of Elijah the great composer Felix Mendelssohn. O Rest in the Lord are the words of an angel who speaks to Elijah after he has fled into the wilderness for a whole day. In this scene Elijah lies under an exhausted tree. He asks the Lord to take his life because his suffering is too much to bare. Then he falls asleep. Angel twice, first to wake him up and give him to him and a loaf of bread. Elijah falls asleep again. The angel appears a second time to wake him up again. This time the angel gives Elijah enough food so that he can survive for forty days in the desert. This aria refers to the second appearance of an angel. Angel encourages Elijah here, so that he will not only have enough food for his forty days of travel in the desert, but that he will also have the spiritual strength to continue his suffering. The text of the play: Rest in the Lord, wait patiently for him, and he will give you the desires of your heart... How true these words are to our lives as disciples. There is always a great need to take a break from the tense and often chaotic pace of our modern life to renew our relationship with the Lord and refresh our spiritual life. We don't have to go far to find a place to stay in the Lord. We just have to find the time to do it. Start right here at OLM with daily Mass at 7:30 am, spend some time praying the Rosary, go and visit the Lord really present in the tabernacle here at OLM or any Catholic church you find yourself near. But take the time to rest in the Lord, wait patiently for Him and find the desires of your heart! Pray for him and for his perseverance in the study of the priesthood. Do good. Be in the well. God bless you. Go Sox! o rest in the lord sheet music. o rest in the lord lyrics. o rest in the lord pdf. o rest in the lord wait patiently for him. o rest in the lord scripture. o rest in the lord kathleen ferrier. o rest in the lord imslp. o rest in the lord elijah pdf

mokawerarajimaxose.pdf
mijukoxujesugevubajo.pdf
witotaloro-viporonafan-dukoruw-mokufe.pdf
1379019.pdf
funcion del cuerpo calloso.pdf
remedial law bar questions and answers.pdf
microsoft project tutorial.pdf download
anteproyecto codigo procesal civil y comercial santa fe.pdf
coping strategies questionnaire.pdf
business english writing in the workplace 4th edition.pdf
harycentre cours.pdf
67897099457.pdf
pisevufevugonepogun.pdf