Harry_font__YOURSSINCERELYLARRY.ttf: 'I'm not a liar, I just don't always tell you the truth. Sometimes I'm all work and no play. It's good to get away sometimes. When you're not too busy to give, you can always find time to care. When the sun shines it feels like anything is possible, what's more, it's great to be there'. 12. Harry Styles. Perfectly-played file in.woff2 format (www.sincerlylarry.com/fonts/Harry_Styles.woff2) downloaded from @font-face . Text in all the files comes from Harry_font__YOURSSINCERELYLARRY.ttf. A: Ok, so after a while I was able to find a decent solution. Here is the solution: A character "N" gets inserted in a regular font, then this is rendered in a font embedding solution like Font Squirrel. I then created an editable text file containing the "N", the font and the text I want to use. Then I just uploaded it to fontsquirrel's free preview (You can try this (make sure to put your file name after.ttf): @font-face { font-family: 'YoursSincerlyLarry'; src: local('YoursSincerlyLarry'), local('YoursSincerlyLarry-Bold'), url('') format('truetype'); } Then use like this: 520fdb1ae7
