

DESCRIBE A PERSON

We tell the reader about a person's appearance and character.
We can write about someone we know or knew in the past, or about someone famous.

Remember!

- Use past tenses if you are describing someone you used to know.
- If you still know the person, use present tenses.
- Start your description by saying WHO you are describing and WHY you chose this person.
- Write something about what he / she looks like – this may only be one or two sentences.
- Write something about his / her character. If possible give an example of something this person does to show his / her character. Use the present simple for this.
- Finish by saying what you or other people think about this person.
- Use different adjectives and superlatives to make the description interesting.
