I think I have been quilting now for 3 months this year. Which is how long it has been since I blogged. I can't remember why I quit posting all the time. Probably because I just got busy doing other things. Well, now I'm going to go back to writing about my quilts. This is "Desert Rose", a quilt that I made for my mom for her birthday. I haven't even looked at it since it was finished last year, but I think it's perfect for her. She loves it! She also loves her cake! I would say it's a true quilt that only needs a back. I got her some black fabric too. That was my idea to make it a gift for her. Well, it works both ways I guess, right? Her and I both love the desert. I got my quilt finished today. A top down triangle with bright orange and yellow fabrics. I love this quilt. I also love the theme of the fabric and the bright and pretty colors! The name of this quilt is "Waterfall". I used the Pre-loved blocks from the SAK blocks for the quilt. I like the look of these blocks. It has really beautiful colors. And they come in a big stack. I think I have a new favorite pattern. I'm going to make this one again. I just love it! I would like to point out the sleeve on the quilt cover. I never would have thought about quilt sleeves. I would have just put the quilt on the back of a chair, and it would have been fine. I just love my new sleeve! It actually closes like a pouch, so the quilt doesn't get any dust on it. That's always a worry of mine when it
