Guard gua 'chisti ciardine,siente si' sti sciure a' arancio, nu profumo accuss' finodint'or core se ne va. And you said, I'll go, Addio! T'alluntane da stu core, da la terra de ll'ammore, has a 'o core' e nun turn? Ma nun mme lassa, nun give me stu turmiento. Turn to Surriento! Camp Phamme! Vide 'o mare de Surriento,che tesoro tene 'nfunno. Chi turned tutt'o munnonun ll've seen comm'a cc' ! Guarda attuorno sti Ssirene,ca te guardao 'ncantatee te v'nno tantu bene... You vulessero vase. And you said, I'll go, Addio! T'alluntane da stu core, da la terra de ll'ammore, has a 'o core' e nun turn? Ma nun mme lassa, nun give me stu turmiento. Turn to Surriento! Camp Phamme! Go back to Sorrento - Luciano Pavarotti, Beniamine GigliMira Sea, how beautiful it is, inspires as much feeling as you who you look, woke up you make him dream. Look, look at these gardens, smell, smell those orange flowers, such soft spirits right in your heart. And you say, I'm leaving, bye! If you leave this heart, out of the land of love, do you have the courage not to come back? But don't leave me, don't give me that torment, go back to Sorrento! Look at the Sea of Sorrento, see the treasures it has in the background. Anyone who has toured the world anywhere has seen them as here! Look around, these mermaids who look at you are fascinated and love you so much... they'd like to kiss you. And you say, I'm leaving, bye! If you leave this heart, out of the land of love, do you have the courage not to come back? But don't leave me, don't give me that torment, go back to Sorrento! Torna a Surriento (Return to Sorrento) is one of the most famous Neapolitan songs along with O sole mio, Funiculo, funicul or Santa Lucia. The music was written in 1902 by Ernesto de Curtis and lyrics to the Neapolitan by his brother Giambattista, in honor of the politician Giuseppe Sanardelli, in order to return to Sorrento, to contribute to the reconstruction of the city, which at that time was in a deplorable state. The song was included in the repertoire of numerous tenors and singers of popular music, such as Enrico Caruso, Tito Shipa, Giuseppe Di Stefano, Beniamino Gigli, Mario Lanza, Elvis Presley, Jose Carreras, Placido Domingo, Luciano Pavarotti, Andrea Bocelli, Meat Bread, Ana Maria Gonzalez Lyrics in Neapolitan Vide'o mare quant'o Bello, spira tantu sentimento, comme tu a chi Guard gua Chistu ciardino; Feel, feel sciure arance: Nu profumo accussi fino dinto ' o core se ne va...
