

Wisdom Coaching and Consulting is multifaceted coaching using cognitive (knowledge and experience), reflective (the ability to examine issues and oneself), and philanthropic (benevolence and compassion) components.

Wisdom Coaching and Consulting works with leaders and their leadership teams in the dental space to become wise.

Wisdom Coaching and Consulting requires specific mental elements. One is open-mindedness. The other is a form of intellectual and epistemic humility, which means the leader recognizes the limits of their knowledge. They know they don't know.

Wise thinking enables leaders to view situations from a third-person perspective rather than an ego-centric point of view. This perspective allows leaders to make the right decisions, at the right time, with the right people, in the right way.

- Leaders with wisdom can better foresee the future.
- Leaders with wisdom dislodge doubt, fear, and ambiguity.
- Leaders with wisdom deal better with the burden of the responsibility they feel for their people as they make those inevitable gut-wrenching decisions.
- Leaders with wisdom can see the whole rather than the parts.
- Leaders with wisdom reduce chaos and confusion by bringing clarity, transparency, and simplicity.
- Leaders with wisdom generate profound employee engagement, true loyalty, and sincere emotional commitment to their work and the enterprise.
