The ICSE Board is well known for its well-structured curriculum and various constructive learning materials. A positive aspect of this advice is that it analyzes the learning requirements of students and prepares suitable educational materials for each standard based on students' learning capacity. The Board does not follow a learning-oriented learning process; instead, it gives leniency to students to choose textbooks according to their preferences. Students can follow several modern books as well. The Class 4 Social Research Program covers almost all the main topics about which a fourth-grade student should have in-depth knowledge.
