Certification training program code of ethics

As a professionally trained facilitator of Innerwealth Technologies, I would love to inform you in advance that I do not treat disease, prescribe drugs, provide therapy or solve legal problems. Therefore, I am not here to take the place of your doctor, therapist, or lawyer. I am simply here to offer you a new and more profound way of looking at your life. I will provide you with a leading edge methodology, a life advancing process, and a high achievement formula, that can help you create significant changes in your attitude to, and actions in, life. I am also here to help you learn how to change any stressful situation you might encounter into a blissful condition, or experience. The result will be that you will learn how to experience more moments of love, gratitude, certainty and presence in your life. You will learn how to act from a greater state of purpose, wisdom, maturity and poise. If you are presently under any form of psychiatric care, psychological therapy, or under the influence of any form of medication, please inform me in private, before the first morning break, for special instructions. Sincerely, Your facilitator

Innerwealth

Innerwealth is the most profound yet simplest distillation of the concepts of human consciousness and the human psyche. Profound because it has been the search of so many over the centuries and simple because it is steeped in five basic principles –all of which are reflected in nature.

The application of Innerwealth work on consciousness is transformative. Consultants trained in this work have spent years in testing and experimentation, studying the concepts and applying them to all walks of life. They operate outside the square –they are not hampered by an attachment to any one dogma and are therefore free to apply this work without restraint.

The result is that whatever circumstance presents itself to you, you are able to seek and find order. This is no religious or even spiritual paradigm but a simple and real way of evolving, moving through personal challenge and growing as a conscious human.

The Principles

Innerwealth Principles remain the most solid and truthful foundation of consciousness available on earth. There are more complex theories and certainly more sophisticated ones too. There are the thousands of years of Yoga and Psychology, there are tens of thousands of books written to explore the human psyche – but none has distilled the work of human consciousness like Innerwealth to open it to business, healing, global awareness, community change, conflict and self development. This is the key.

A summary of the Uniqueness Innerwealth Consulting Technology

First there is the notion of Universal principles.. They have been prostituted and distorted by those of lesser consciousness for centuries, even now people trying to gain some competitive or deceptive edge --but it is not possible for all such corruption is just an emotion --a blip on the horizon of the great truth. that lives within all hearts. Just as a part of something is truly worthless without the whole --so they are doomed to mimic and pilfer. Innerwealth offers these truths through deep profound reflection. Transparent knowledge is knowledge that is mirrored by nature herself and needs none of the interpretation of the many magicians and neophytes of the world.

Second, there is the notion of consciousness. And while so many infatuate with the hippie derivative of new age science I have cut this to the core. The pain of the world is now mostly caused by new age science --religion and the distortion of hope into fabrication and organization.. Yoga teachers prostitute Yoga teaching to new age gymnasiums and preach their own form of illusion, meditators emanating from India have little or no idea of the consequences of their manipulation and personalization of ancient teachings --they are at the core of so much distortion and abuse. They are equaled only by those so called religious teachers whose primary aim is membership of their fellowship, the goodness of mankind is lost in this, Innerwealth has unbundled the great teachings and taken away their myth. As one student in my retreat last week said, Chris, I already know in my heart everything you have said, I just didn't understand it. Simplicity is the power

Third, while leaders throughout the world create factions between culture, religion and race Innerwealth creates division through consciousness. I acknowledge --not by skin color, wealth or so called heritage, that people are different, but they are different in consciousness, nothing more. The unconscious are the fundamentalist whose resistance and fight for their doctrine stupefies those who really seek. I believe that there is an amazing evolution taking place --that people of higher consciousness are emerging throughout our societies and as they do the 2000 year long dark age righteousness will be confronted. We are seeing it now. Innerwealth does not heal or consult to make things right, this is the tedium of born again fundamentalism. Innerwealth helps people evolve in consciousness and by so doing shifts the patterns and habits that have imprisoned individuals, communities and nations.

Fourth, there is an inevitability about this work. It is based on ancient principle which cannot be distorted or fragmented by the greedy. The work of InnerWealth is bound by its integrity to the ancient masters of past millennium and I am a student of that lineage. Although, by it's simplicity it appears to understate the power it is that very simplicity and all encompassing magnificence of this picture that should break though the cold and lost hearts of those who fear the truth, and awaken that which already exists... Never underestimate the power of the whole truth. It places love back in one puzzle and reveals through simplicity the mastery . To those whose vanguard it is to hold people in disempower organized masses of unconsciousness Innerwealth is their greatest fear. But it is unstoppable.

Fifth, and finally. Do not underestimate the power that has been placed by creation into your personal heart, mind and hands. This work, the laws of nature, the healing power of gratitude and love, the consciousness of Innerwealth will transform the way people think. It will be ridiculed then incorporated as it is already into books and teachings by others who really know nothing more that the language, the sales talk and the rub. They have no idea of the depth. They are still in the unconscious mass trying to fix things. And once you have learned this work, should you choose to abandon this gift that has been drawn to you, then it is beyond your human capacity to do so. You have been blessed to see the creation, to touch truth and to be awakened to love that the majority cannot even imagine, there is no place to go back to. I wish you courage.

Ayurveda – Medical Science – Human Wellbeing

Over 3000 years old the science of Ayurvedic Medicine has evolved from the great teachers of ancient Yoga. The secrets of Body mind awareness, your personal Dosha, body type life style and healing are all covered in this exceptional element of the program. Consultations by Rama are also included in the program.

East Meets West

The deepest awareness and respect for the best of both worlds means a wonderful opportunity to honour diversity, to interconnect with others yet respect the divergence in method and approach. Ancient and modern meet in a merging of ways for inner calm and awareness.

Indigenous Respect

Honouring traditions from all nations. Valuing our roots, reflecting on great wisdom we invite elders and native peoples to share and teach us the ways of living life in tune with nature and therefore spirit. Local Shaman and Priest will be invited to address the group on our one day excursion to Ubud.

Vision, Inspiration and life Purpose.

Vision is a powerful goal and an essential motivator. Inspiration is when the inner voice speaks louder than the outer voices. Life purpose is beyond them both. Life purpose is a commitment to excellence and a commitment to a purpose greater than the self. Instead of the fluctuations of transient goals and visions, life purpose creates a transportable theme for a life. Life purpose breaks dependency and provides the true freedom that every individual aspires to.

The Collapse Process

The Collapse Process is the newest methodology in achieving lasting and loving presence. It allows people to make quantum leaps in quantum time. You'll become more magnetic, less stressed and healthier. It is a foolproof and effective means of transforming stress into grateful states of love and vitality. The term Collapse was extracted from the study of quantum physics. It represents a process of synthesis, where and when two oppositely charged human emotions come together, join, transform, transcend and emerge as new forms of energy. - vitality, purpose and love." Created by Dr John Demartini, of the Concourse of Wisdom this powerful tool is at the core of Innerwealth Consulting.

Personal Change

Personal Change is initiated and implemented through the willingness to do something different and step outside the square. Innerwealth Program provides the catalyst for self-development and subsequent personal change. Now with technology placing extremely high demands on human potential, Innerwealth can become an essential part of your daily regime to maintain long term quality of life and remain inspired. It is an opportunity for growth. Change and growth are essential today, and Innerwealth is one of the prime building blocks for that process.
