INDUSTRY PARTNERS

Our industry leaders are paramount in making our communities a place for economic development, but also great places to live. Their work with employees and educators is changing the futures of many.

EDUCATION & STUDENTS

The education partners involved not only listen to problems faced by employers but take action to fix them, providing classrooms where students are engaged and prepared for employment.

CONNECTION

Growing membership is critical to future success. We cannot improve Southwest Wyoming without partners dedicated to working together to create a better future.

Since 2018, SWMP has been working to improve workforce development across Southwest Wyoming by bringing together public and private sector leaders to support growing industries, build businesses, and connect people with better jobs.

When the opportunities and actions needed to promote the growth of Southwest Wyoming were identified, community partners from workforce development, education, and economic development became supporting sector partners and changes started to be made in both industry and education.
