

Partition Machine: Legacies of Territoriality in a Violent World

Co-edited by Jayita Sarkar (University of Glasgow) & Georgios Giannakopoulos (City, University of London)

Partially based on British Academy conference, 'Partition Machine,' August 2023, University of Glasgow

Introduction: Plus ça change

Jayita Sarkar & Georgios Giannakopoulos

PART I: Durations

1. "The History of Partition and the Modern Liberal International Order," Glenda Sluga, European University Institute
2. "Partition and its Alternatives," Charles S. Maier, Harvard University
3. "World War II and Partitions: Closing the Gap between Decolonisation and the Cold Wars," Jayita Sarkar, University of Glasgow

PART II: Dreams (1880s- 1930s)

4. "Partition to Control: German Southwest Africa and the 'Ovambogefahr'," Saima Nakuti Ashipala, University of Free State
5. "British Policy and Lord Curzon's Opposition towards Iranian Nationalism at the Peace of Paris, 1919," Philip Grobier, Independent Scholar, UK
6. "The Partition of Ireland and the Lausanne Treaty compared: Imperial containment in an Era of Self-Determination," Connor Mulvagh, University College Dublin
7. "'Another Ulster!': Ireland, Palestine, and the Transnational Logic of Imperial Violence," Darragh Gannon, Georgetown University & Arie Dubnov, George Washington University
8. "Greece and the Partition of the Ottoman Empire," Georgios Giannakopoulos, City, University of London
9. "Whither Assyria: The Mosul Dispute 1914-1933," Sargon Donabed, Roger Williams University

PART II: Deeds (1940s)

10. "The Frontiers of French India: Border making and imperial politics," Akhila Yechury, University of St Andrews
11. "The Politics of Geography in the Partition of Punjab," Hannah Fitzpatrick, University of Edinburgh
12. Rejecting Partition: The UNSCOP minority plan for a federal Palestine," Anne Irfan, University College London

Conclusion: Plus c'est la même chose

Jayita Sarkar & Georgios Giannakopoulos