Movie: Music: Ziprate: (3) The only negative about Papercut, the hip-hop comedy from Brazilian director Kleber Mendonca Filho, is that some of the characters are so odd they make you realize how normal people really are. Not that we don't need hip-hop to take stock of our actualities - we do. The plot of Papercut is a... by: SANDRA OGUNTHERE is a man whose name is like a classic jazz refrain. "That's not the guy's name, is it? I don't remember," Bill Murray says with deadpan hilarity as his clerk in an American airport in the 2004 film Good Will Hunting. "I don't know that's the guy's name, is it?" Bill Murray made his name with a non-jazzy performance in 1985's... "NTSB determined that the foreign object impact was due to a combination of factors, including the impacted area of the windshield being in the aircraft's right wing outboard fairing, and the aircraft's 55 percent gliding angle at the time of the collision, which contributed to an increased downward force on the right wing." in: The News-Gazette... Conviction (2012) is a well-made, moody thriller that manages to be both smart and scary without being too overwhelming or trying too hard. Shane Black, the man behind both Iron Man films, and the Lethal Weapon series, delivers an excellent thriller with some great twists, and some very solid actors. It's a great film for anyone looking for a good thriller... Trailer for the feature-length documentary, which documents life inside a maximum security prison in Brazil. The film documents the lives of 25 inmates on a path of transition, after their release from prison, at the Santa Casa de Misericórdia - Jail in São Paulo, Brazil. It is a project of the Institute for Social Welfare... By Miguel Camargo • Published June 15, 2011 at 520fdb1ae7
