The Secret Society of SupervilducksAbilitic Team of various natural elements Manipulation and control of magical/mystical energy in various forms of Jinx appear in the book published by DC Comics and is part of the DC universe. Created by Marv Wolfman and Chuck Patton, it first appeared in the Teenage Titans' Tales of #56 (August 1985). This character has nothing to do with the male character of the same name, who first appeared in Adventure Comics #488 as an opponent of Chris King and Vicky Grant. She joined a group of supervillains, Fearsome Five, a frequent enemy of teenage titans, Superman and The Outsiders. She was also a member of Villainy Inc. to date, her real name has not been disclosed. The fictional nature of Jinx's biography is an Indian elementary sorceress whose powers include the ability to command elements such as air, the manipulation of magical energy that it can manifest as offensive bolts of force and green flame, the ability to dissolve matter, and the creation of tremors. Jinx is bald and slim because of cancer. She traditionally wears only a white two-piece headband bikini with gold embellishments, and she is always barefoot because she has to be in contact with the ground to use her element of nature abilities. The first time she had encountered the Terrible Five was when the group attacked three-State prison, where she was imprisoned at the request of the Indian authorities. The Five was defeated by the teenage titans, but Jinx and Neutron decided to join the Scary Five. Jinx stayed with the band even after Neutron subsequently left, but after their next appearance in The Adventures of Superman #430 (July 1987), in which they fought superman alongside new members of Deuce and Chargers, the band disbanded, and Jinx was imprisoned in a meta-human prison on Alcatraz with his teammates Mammoth and Gizmo. Jinx was part of the Army's army of supervillains, which was defeated by Wonder Woman and other superheroes of the Earth. Shortly thereafter, Jinx was recruited by the queen of Klia to the reformed female crime organization Villainy Inc. along with Cyborg, Dr. Poison, Giganta, and Trinity, Jinx helps Klia conquer another land of Scardaris. This plan, however, is under the command of the Trinity. The team hasn't appeared since. Later, in the storyline in Outsiders #12-15 (July-October 2004), frequent Marvel Marvel Dr. Sivan freed Jinx, Mammoth, and Gizmo from Alcatraz. Calling teammate Psimon and bringing her teammate Shimmer back to life after it was turned into glass and shattered, Sivan put the team to work for him in a short sell-off of Lexcorp shares, having them steal their accounts from their corporate building in Metropolis and then driving down shares, killing all the people in the building. Sivan would also have destroyed two other Lexcorp properties. On the last of the two, the microchip processor of Lexcorp's subsidiary, Kellacor, five faced outsiders. After escaping, the criminal unsophisticated five called on Sivan to take the Lexcorp nuclear missile system near Joshua Tree, California. When Sivan refused, Psimon said they would still arrive, and in response Sivan killed Gizmo with a laser explosion on the head and severed his relationship with the other four, warning them that he would kill them if they ever crossed his path again. The Five decided to adopt their plan to take the object and shoot a nuclear missile at Canada, but were defeated by outsiders. The mammoth was returned to Alcatraz Island, but Jinx and the other members of the Five remain at large. She was later spotted among the new League of Injustice, and is one of the villains featured in the Salvation Run. She is one of the villains sent to get out of hell a free card from the secret six. In The New 52 (the reboot of the DC Comics universe in 2011), Jinx first appeared as part of Fearsome Five. The group appears as part of the Secret Society, which are allies of the Criminal Syndicate. She travels with other members of Fearsome Five, Mammoth, Gizmo, Shimmer and Psimon, along with Dr. Psycho and Hector Hammond to fight against Cyborg and Metalist. She eventually defeated the Lead. In the 2016 dc reboot of their titles, DC Revival, Jinx appears as part of the dreaded Five. Powers and Jinx abilities are a formidable elementary sorceress who draws her magic from solid, natural earth. This is why she must have contact between the ground and her bare feet at all times, otherwise her magical effects are weakened or lost altogether. Its elementary abilities include, but are not limited to: generating powerful explosions of force, conjuring wind explosions, causing emerald flames, creating tremors, creating illusions, and even dissolving solid matter. Jinx also has campaigning abilities that allow her to feel dangerous events moments before they occur. Jinx has the ability to communicate with the Earth itself in order to gently manipulate even more magic stored there. It may have other mystical abilities, although no one is sure. Other versions of the Animated Version of Jinx Does appearances in the comics spin-off Teen Titans animated animated animated series, starting with the release of #1. In #26-27, hints are given by Jinx later turning over the new sheet (as hints in the Lightspeed episode). She also appears in #34 as a Friend of Kid Flash. She is captured with other Blackfire heroines and rescued by the Titans in the matter of #36. In the release of #39, she's still with Kid Flash; When Larry, who plays Cupid, strikes other women with her love arrows, when Flash won't let herself be startled, she has her hands full with keeping them from flirting with her boyfriend. Jinx also appears in #40, still as part of the Hive Five at the time, and #43, helping the Titans stop the dreaded five. In #53, it was revealed that Jinx's nickname is Lucky, and that she entered into a disappointing relationship with Kid Kold (aka Leo) before joining H.I.V.E. In this release she also shared her first kiss with Kid Flash. In other media television this section does not refer to any sources. She is a student of H.I.V.E. and is often associated with Gizmo and Mammoth. She has pale skin, pink hair, pink eyes with feline pupils and an outfit that looks like witches. The power of the animated Jinx is a probability manipulation, very similar to the early images of the Marvel Scarlet Witch. In one episode she meets Kid Flash and is amazed by it, and is forced to choose between using Madame Rouge and The Brotherhood of Evil or Kid Flash. She decides to help Baby Flash, because of her feelings for Flash and because of Madame Rouge's abusive behavior. She subsequently leaves H.I.V.E and joins the Titans with Kid Flash instead, an act to which Cyborg commented well, it was unexpected. Jinx appears in Teen Titans Go! episodes of Girl's Night Out, Opposites, Operation Tin Man, Like Booth's Some Effort and Operation Dude Rescue, voiced again by Lauren Tom.
