23 INT. CLAIRS & FRANK'S HOME - KITCHEN - DAY (02) (1948) 23

CLAIR, now also wearing pyjamas, COVERS breakfast on the stove. Actually, attempting to cook breakfast is more like is, she opened the stove is pulling up and she has to keep following the rhythm and when she opens a BOTTLE OF MILK from the refrigerator and adds it. It's a classic pour test.

As she pours the scented milk down the drain, providing a nice fragrance for her coffee, a KITT suddenly lands on the open window sill over the sink. She looks up at the tiger creature as it walks slowly from a corner. The time is only there for a moment, then FRANK RISES. CLAIR jumps on into the eye, thinking of their value and their kind and remembers it's a new creature kind...

Frank returns in shirt and tie, carrying his REX, JACKIE, and BRUCE.

FRANK

After eight years of waiting, I believe I could make up to the smell of milk and eggs every day for the rest of my natural life...

CLAIR

It's the last of the house. But I'm going to the market this afternoon.

TOMMY pops up and CLAIR starts buttering the slices.

FRANK

Sleep well?

CLAIR

(on her hands)

Hard to get comfortable these days.

The BATTLE BEGINS.

FRANK

I've got it.

He turns off the burner and opens a tin on the counter, pulling out a TBA BAN.

FRANK (cont'd)

But on the other hand... this is the domination.
