

Dear Friends of Possibility Management,

It can be empowering to talk about what the heck we are talking about all the time, namely: Possibility.

Yes, Possibility is a Bright Principle, a facet of Consciousness at large. But what is Possibility really? And how can you manage Possibility in your daily life?

In each situation, you have access to a measurable amount of Possibility. It is the number of real options you see to choose from. The question to ask is, does this amount of Possibility give you the Agency you need?

If yes, you are good to go. If not, then you can apply your skills for Creating Possibility.

You might also get stopped in the condition of having too much Possibility, too many options to choose from! If you cannot seem to select which Possibility you will use, if you feel overwhelmed or confused by having so many Possibilities, a new approach is needed: eliminating Possibilities.

Making efficient and wise choices about which Possibilities to destroy and which to keep is an artform in itself. Certainly, Conscious Anger applied through your Sword of Clarity will make quick work of too many Possibilities. What also helps is to use your Purpose Sniffer to detect the Purpose woven into each Possibility. For example, ask yourself where this Possibility will probably take you if you Choose it? Is that where you want to go?

But what if you lack real life information? For example, what if you are assembling a Team, say an Infinity Ring for your Bridge-House gameworld, and you feel uncertain about who to empower? Practical people-knowledge is central.

Here is when your Compass Of Reality comes in handy. Your Compass Of Reality is electrified by the Conscious Fear that your Being wears as one of its most powerful sensing resources. Your Compass Of Reality tells you What Is, What Is Not, and What Is Possible, even if your Box might be freaking out about it.

Your Compass Of Reality peels away layer after layer of your 'Buffer Zone' – all those new survival strategies that you have been placing on top of your already existing survival strategies... handling strategies with more strategies... Your Compass Of Reality carves away imaginary solutions to get you back in connection with the intelligence and energy of your archetypal Fear.

Only with a strong footing on Reality can you create New Results. Only when you are where you are, can you create and invent.

Your Team can also help you accurately reflect where you are: not any one of your Team, but all of them together. You can prove this easily using the Bean Test:

- Fill up a large glass jar with dried beans. Put a lid on the jar.
- Pass the jar around and ask each person in your team to estimate how many beans are in the jar.
- On a paper, write down each person's name and the number of beans they tell you.
- Then pour out the beans and count them one by one.
- Then average the entire Team's estimations, by adding up each person's guess and dividing by the number of people who guessed.
- Compare each person's estimation, and also the Team average estimation, to the actual number. Which is closest?

The typical result is that one person might have the most accurate guess (but how could you know who before?), and most people guess too high or too low. But if you average everyone's guess together, this may be the most accurate of all.

There you are!

We wish you empowered Experimenting!

Why it is so difficult for us to dare something new by Patrizia Patz (DE)

"If you won 10 million in the lottery tomorrow, would you keep your current job?" If your answer is YES, you probably have a job that you love, that maybe even corresponds to your calling. If you answered NO, then you are doing your job more for reasons of financial security than for passion.

A Conversation Less Civil, Less Polite, More Sane by Devin Gleeson

I realize that what I actually want is to have a different kind of conversation — one that emerges from the heart (not the mind), comes through direct contact with reality, does not further sever our relationship with the earth by objectifying it or pretending that we are not a part of it, right here and right now.

A conversation less civil, less polite, more sane.

Original Wisdom, the Archetypal and Integrity by Sónia Maia Gonçalves

You are walking around life looking on the outside. You shift and turn, activating your survival strategies whenever a friction comes across. The space between what is alive inside of you and what you are doing on the outside becomes bigger. A gap is created and you become more and more farther away from who you are.

Article #1: The Terrifying Distinction: 'Gameworld' by Anne-Chloé Destremau

Is it true that you live in a culture where it is virtually impossible, or at least very unlikely, that your inspired vision will change the lives of dozens, hundreds, thousands, maybe even millions of people?

Isn't it strange?
