My wife and I have a collection of adult films that we want to upload to the media center, but we don't want the kids to see them in the film section. I'm sure I'm not the only one in this situation and was wondering how things went about it. Make sure you set up theprofileto usedifferent source as well as all your movies in a separate catalog so you canadd that as a source. Then you should have it separately that your main profile. I did the same thing but did profile kids and haveall their movies and TV shows on this profile. Also you can add a xxx scraper to have xbmc auto-scratching your movies. :-) Nvidia Shield with Cody 18 Ned Scott Banned Ned Scott Prohibited Posts: 31,452 It's Easy. Place on USB HDD, don't scan it in the library and just use the file view, disconnect and hide when it's not in use. Otherwise, the children will find it. They always find it. AaronG85 Senior Member AaronG85 Senior Member of the Post: 195 Great Workaround. Maybe in future versions we could implement the adult section in xbmc and have its password protected and scrapers recognize adult material just as he discovers movies and TV shows Azztech Computers - Budgewoi - Computer Repair and Services Helta Posting Freak Helta Posting Freak Messages: 1415 He already does. It has a few adult scrapers, they just aren't turned on by default. Finding forums a bit. AaronG85 Senior Member AaronG85 Senior Member Messages: 195 I don't want a scraper, I know they are, I want a way to hide adult materials by default. I always believe the OOB (out of the box) solution is always the best so mainstream users don't have to go on finding and installing a semi-basic feature. Azztech Computers - Budgewoi - Computer Repair and Stigdu Service Member I asked asked issue a few weeks ago though my collection is for some of my more graphic horror movies. What I did was group them into a custom movie set called The Extreme Movie Collection and then set the custom X-rated graphic as a thumbs up movie set. While thinking about it, it might make my daughter even more curious to see what's inside! I think their separate external drive sounds like a good solution to me. MassIV Skilled Skinner MassIV Skilled Skinner Messages: 1126 Make a New Profile. Add your adult movies Set it as a password protected in the main profile, make a custom button that will open your second profile directly. Set the skin for a second profile to skip home and go straight to your movies. So you can have adults next to normal movies at home. He's going to ask for the code. Once you enter the code you land right in your adult movies. And if your child finds out how to use all'tab they can go straight to studying some biology. Karellen Team-Cody Member Messages: 13203 @Bobby Mercer You don't get a temporary password, you set your own... If you're referring to some add-ons, then you'll need to ask an add-on developer. Punchbuggy Junior Member Punchbuggy Junior Member Messages: 14 If your kids are unlikely to be manually searching through your source file and you're just worried about the titles scratching and appearing under movies in all their title glory, you can also put a blank text file in adult-only catalogs called .nomedia. And of course, with a catalog called Adult Only will just look at me! Look at me! -) This theme has 11 responses, 1 vote, and was last updated 1 week, 5 days ago by Tim Mccasland.
