I'm an actor myself. I have studied acting all my life, taking various workshops and going through conservatories, film and acting schools, being in a million productions including theatrical plays, musicals, operas, commercials, short films, and feature films. I have read many books about acting in all its methods as well as other aspects of cinema. Something I like about this career is that this lifelong journey is filled with constant challenges and learning opportunities. But I would have read this book sooner because it would have saved me a lot of time figuring things out.
